NO. 178—EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1942 | SIXTEEN PAGES

DECISION MAY REST IN FAR DISTANT ZONE

Aerial Battles in Mid-Mediterranean Affecting Issue In Egypt

ROMMEL HARASSED BY AERIAL FORCES

CAIRO, July 8 (AP).—The British defenders of Egypt resorted to desert patrol and air actions today against the bivouacked Axis forces west of El Alamein, but the great decision apparently was in the making in aerial battles as far away as the mid-Mediterranean Isle of Malta.

There were indications that the supplies Marshal Erwin Rommel needs to resume his march into Egypt were being harassed in transit overseas from Italy, and the ports of entry in Libya were being methodically bombed by the Allies.

ATTACKS ON MALTA

The British communique issued this morning told of continuing enemy air attacks on Malta, and these intensified blows on the much-bombed isle apparently were designed to counteract British attacks on Axis convoys supplying Rommel's desert armies.

The communique said that British fighters shot down nine Axis fighters and damaged others in yesterday's fighting and that in the Malta operations and the desert warfare combined eight British fighters were lost, with six of the pilots saved.

The British communique from Malta Tuesday evening reported the island defenders had bagged twenty-four enemy planes in twenty-four hours, and there the R.A.F. undoubtedly was using planes delivered

ADDS ANOTHER TO THE SCORE

United States Submarine Torpedoes Japanese Destroyer in Aleutians

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP). — A lone United States submarine, following up the smashing undersea attack on Japanese warships in the Aleutian Islands on July 4, was reported to have torpedoed and probably sunk an enemy destroyer last Sunday in the vicinity of Kiska Island.

Announcement of the action was made in a navy communique which noted that this was the fifth enemy destroyer sunk or damaged by American submarines in the Aleutians area during the two-day period July 4 and 5.

The Independence Day operation, carried out by at least two submersibles, resulted in the sinking of two destroyers at Kiska and one at Agattu. A third destroyer at Kiska, which is 583 nautical miles west of Dutch Harbor, was left "burning fiercely."

Thus in two days the submarines, pressing home their attack under incessant fog which had hampered aerial bombardment, raised the enemy's ship losses in his attempts to consolidate his positions on American soil to five sunk, one probably sunk and nine damaged.

The toll of Japanese ships taken by American submarines in the war to date, as reported in navy communiques, was raised to forty-seven sunk, fourteen probably sunk and thirteen damaged.

Seven Killed By Crash of Army Plane

SMITHFIELD, N.C., July 8 (AP).—A United States Army plane crashed in a cornfield about five miles north of here today, killing its seven occupants.

The low-flying plane, witnesses said, apparently tried to gain altitude and then went into a nose dive, crashed and exploded.

Five bodies were burned beyond recognition and two others were badly mangled.

Uniform Was Only Clothing He Possessed

MONTREAL, July 8 (CP)—J. J. Brownlee, who said he was a former staff sergeant discharged from the army because of injuries received in the Battle of Trondheim, Norway, in 1940, told Judge Theberge today that "My uniform is the only clothing I possess," when he pleaded guilty to wearing a military uniform without authorization. Judge Theberge gave suspended sentence and three days to secure civilian clothing "in recognition of Brownlee's excellent war record."

SCORES PLAN OF SPENDING

Opposition Leader Hanson Objects to Order in Council Method

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—Conservative House Leader Hanson said in the House of Commons today that 25 per cent of taxes paid for war purposes was being diverted to other purposes.

Protesting methods adopted by the Government to provide compensation up to $2,400 for fishermen suffering equipment losses due to the war, Mr. Hanson said the provision should have been made by statute and not by order in council.

"The whole principle of dealing with public money on this basis is wrong," Mr. Hanson said in a debate on the War Risk Insurance Bill.

"It should be done under a statute and it should not be left to the discretion of the minister no matter how fair-minded he may be . . . I wonder what the people of this country who now are being called upon to pay more and more and more in the way of direct taxation, will think when they find out that 25 per cent of all taxes they pay for the purpose of the war effort is being diverted to other objects.

FRITTERED AWAY

"This in the indictment against the budget: 25 per cent of the money which the people are to contribute is being frittered away on useless agencies which are costing huge sums of money and are in no way connected directly with the war."

The Conservative house leader said he protested only the method, not the principle of paying compensation for fishermen suffering loss due to the war.

Finance Minister Ilsley said the Government had the power to enact the necessary war risk legislation by order in council.

EMPLOYEES ON RUBBER SEARCH

Thirty Thousand Oil Station Workers Going for Six-Hour Hunt

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8 (AP).—Pacific Coast service stations will undergo a six-hour blackout tomorrow in the interests of the national rubber drive.

From noon until 6 p.m. all the major oil company service stations and most of the independent stations will lock their pumps, close their doors and send some 30,000 employees scouring homes and business districts from San Diego to British Columbia in a last-minute drive to turn in rubber for the nation's scrap rubber campaign.

The all-out effort by service station operators is purely voluntary and is operating under the oil industry's rubber drive committee, William F. Humphrey, Western Division rubber drive chairman, said. Officials here said the thousands of service stations would not sell any gas or render any of the usual service because all employees would be busy on the six-hour house-to-house mopping-up campaign.

Blamey Wants More Salutes

CANBERRA, July 8 (AAP).—Henceforth all Australian soldiers must salute commissioned officers at all times whether on or off duty, except in a crowded thoroughfare or assembly, during exercises on the field, when on parade under the immediate control of their superior or when precluded by the nature of their duties.

This decision was made today by the War Cabinet on the recommendation of General Sir Thomas Blamey, Commander-in-Chief of Allied land forces, who reported the present situation in Australia and the distribution of troops at battle stations required a general improvement in the standard of discipline.

Loading Up for Early Morning Call

Something mighty unpleasant is being cooked up here for the little men of Japan who are spreading themselves over conquered islands to the north and west of Australia and looking greedily toward the British dominion. The ground crew of an Australian bomber squadron is pictured loading death and destruction in the form of heavy bombs on a bomber due to go out for a crack at the Japanese Pacific bases. Australian and U.S. bomber formations have hit hard and often at the invasion forces gathering against the continent.

Crack Battleship Of Germany's Navy Is Badly Damaged

Admiral von Tirpitz Twice Torpedoed by Russian Submarine in Barents Sea—German Transport Also Sunk and Another Damaged—Tirpitz Now Believed to Be in German Port

MOSCOW, July 9 (Thursday) (AP).—The powerful new German battleship Admiral von Tirpitz, now on the loose again from her Norwegian fjord refuge and ranging the United States-British supply route to Northern Russia, has been torpedoed twice and seriously damaged by a Russian submarine, the Russian communique announced early today.

The 35,000-ton battleship, pride of the Nazi fleet and sister ship of the Bismarck, which the Royal Navy harried to her doom last year, was hit by two torpedoes in the Barents Sea, the official report declared.

The Russians, in the same action in Northern waters, sank a German transport and damaged another, the communique declared.

TWO TORPEDOES HIT

"In the Barents Sea one of our submarines attacked the new German ship Admiral Von Tirpitz. Two torpedoes hit the vessel and caused serious damage," the communique said.

"In the Barents Sea a German transport also was sunk and another damaged."

Where the Admiral Von Tirpitz

MEXICAN PLANE BOMBS U-BOAT

Military Commander Was Passenger in Attacking Aircraft Off Tampico

MEXICO CITY, July 8 (AP).—Two 100-pound bombs dropped from a plane in which the military commander was riding accounted for the damage to a German submarine off Tampico, the general staff said today.

General Anacleto Guerrero was a passenger, being piloted by Major Luis Noriega Medrano, one of a squadron of three of a regular patrol flight. On the coast south of Tampico, about forty miles from where two Mexican tankers were torpedoed ten days ago they saw a submarine apparently stranded near the shore.

The general staff said the first bomb, dropped by a plane acquired from the United States only last month, landed forty-five feet from the sub, and the second only three feet from the side near the conning tower. Immediately afterward oil was observed on the water. Later other patrol planes in the region reported they saw a rubber boat afloat near the sub.

If the submarine was stranded when it was bombed, it would account for the general staff's statement yesterday that apparently another U-boat had come to its aid in an effort to pull it offshore.

BRITISH FLEET ON THE WATCH

Protecting Allied Supply Lines to Egypt Ready To Give Battle

WITH THE BRITISH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN, July 8 (AP).—Britain's Mediterranean Fleet is spreading its power over a wide area to protect Allied supply lines and simultaneously keeping a weather eye open for any enemy attempts to reinforce desert positions through seaborne landings.

While the British Army is holding firm against Axis attacks and artillery duels rage seventy miles from Alexandria, the warships are maintaining ceaseless patrols, ready to give battle to surface craft, sky raiders or submarines.

Unlike previous desert campaigns, the fleet this time did not have a chance to turn its guns on the enemy since this far no effective targets have been offered.

The rapid Nazi advance has produced a steady stream of motor transport along the coastal road, but the enemy rarely paused long enough to establish big bases.

IS COOLER IN THE NILE NOW

But Weather Generally Much The Same as in Herodotus' Day

CAIRO, July 8 (AP).—The weather is getting seasonally cooler in the Nile Valley and on the Western Desert battlefront, with daytime temperatures now ranging from 90 to 110 Fahrenheit.

Oddly, July is cooler usually than May and June when the temperature sometimes hits a maximum of 130.

From the daytime high of 110, the temperature drops as low as 70 in the July nights and it is chilly in the desert dawn.

Personal comfort depends largely on the wind, which usually blows for fifty straight days at a time, blowing enervating and extremely irritating dust clouds across the wastes of the desert.

Under tribal laws, if the hot dusty "khamseen" blows longer than fifty days, as it occasionally does, the Bedouins are permitted to kill one of their wives.

As for the Egyptian weather generally, it hasn't changed much since Herodotus complained about it 2,500 years ago.

Fishy Water In the Oases

CAIRO, July 8 (AP).—Fishy water, so unpalatable that no stomach can stand it, was all that the British left behind for the Germans to drink on the Western Desert.

This was the result of fish oil methodically poured into the wells at all oases.

Although German engineers no doubt have cleaned the wells by now and made the water drinkable, it will keep its lingering taste of fish for months.

FREE FRENCH WEEK OPENS

Wendell Willkie and Gen. de Gaulle Pledge Fight For Victory

NEW YORK, July 8 (CP).—Wendell L. Willkie and Gen. Charles de Gaulle tonight opened "Free French Week" in an international ceremony in which both pledged their people to fight for victory and reconstruction of the world when victory is won.

Willkie, in a speech heard on both long and short wave radio bands, declared: ". . . It is impossible to conceive of a world without a free, flourishing France, a France that will continue to yield to mankind, out of the resources and imagination of her people, her great contributions in the arts and sciences, in philosophy and literature, in custom and feeling and in the cultural progress that attends the forward movement of civilization.

"There must a free France. The people of the United States are dedicated to its restoration."

The audience at newly-opened Freedom House heard De Gaulle reply from London that the Allies "meant to win the war and the peace."

SPIRIT AND COURAGE

"To win the war it is not enough to have soldiers and armaments," the general said. "Men and material must have a well-chosen objective and clever leadership to inspire the necessary confidence and enthusiasm. It is the spirit and courage that win victories.

"To win the peace," he continued, "it would not be enough to command gigantic resources. It would not be enough to impose severe conditions on the aggressor nations for universal security, it would not be enough to conclude treaties and alliances.

"All these wishes, all these guarantees, all these facts must have one aim, so chosen as to concentrate every effort and fire, every hope, aspiration and sacrifice to realize it."

MORE ARRESTS IN BUND CLEAN-UP

U.S. Authorities Round Up Forty-Five Additional Members of German-American Society

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP).—Arrest of forty-five more Bund members in the Government's drive to smash the German-American Bund was announced tonight by P. E. Foxworth, New York head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Foxworth said all the group, which included nine women, were rounded up during the day in the metropolitan area. He declared all were aliens.

The campaign to destroy the Bund was begun with the arrest of twenty-nine persons on Tuesday by Federal agents.

Foxworth asserted that the forty-five taken today were removed to Ellis Island, where they will await a hearing before an enemy alien hearing board.

HITS DESTROYER

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP).—The United States Navy announced today that a United States submarine had torpedoed and was believed to have sunk a Japanese destroyer in the vicinity of Kiska Island in the Aleutians.

MARSHAL DEAD

VICHY, July 8 (AP). — The death was announced today of Louis Franchet d'Esperey, last living marshal of France with the exception of Chief of State Marshal Petain.

Russians Confirm Loss Of City of Staryi Oskol; Enemy Ousted From Don

Red Army Wipes Out First German Crossings of River—Claim to Have Situation Well in Hand—Nazis Use Old Tactics of Bombing Back of Lines

MOSCOW, July 9 (Thursday) (AP).—The Russians acknowledged today that the battered city of Staryi Oskol, sixty-five miles west of Voronezh, has fallen to the Germans after heavy fighting but Soviet reports indicated that spirited counter-attacks have wiped out the first German crossings of the vital Don River, sixty-five miles east of Staryi Oskol.

Russian tanks, cavalrymen from the Urals and Red infantry appeared to have taken the situation in hand as the Germans moved nearer Voronezh, vital as an important link of the Moscow-Rostov rail line.

DRIVEN FROM DON

Russian dispatches said that light enemy units which reached the east bank of the Don River in the Voronezh area had been destroyed and the bridgeheads over which they crossed were torn down.

The tide apparently turned Monday night when the Red air force bombed and shattered German pontoon bridges and prevented the enemy from sending reinforcements to the east bank.

"During July 8 our troops fought fierce battles west of Voronezh," the Soviet midnight communique said.

"After stubborn battles our troops evacuated the town of Staryi Oskol. On other fronts there were no essential changes."

Staryi Oskol was an objective of a German drive which developed in full force last week-end as the Germans sought to fight their way to the Don in their Kursk offensive.

SOUTH OF KHARKOV

The city, the southernmost point of a triangle formed with Kursk and Voronezh, is some eighty miles northeast of Kharkov, scene of heavy fighting this Spring.

The Russian counter-attacks apparently have pushed aside heavy German forces from the main line of their offensive smash toward the Caucasus.

CHINA FIGHTS FOR CONTROL OF RAILWAYS

Main Battles With Japanese Centred on Lines Southwest of Nanchang

BOTH SIDES SUFFER HEAVY CASUALTIES

CHUNGKING, July 8 (AP).—The fight for China has gone into a new phase with fierce battles swirling around two rail line towns southwest of Nanchang where the Japanese have struck toward Hunan Province in a bid for control of the second vital link of an overland railway system to link Shanghai to Singapore, the High Command disclosed tonight.

A communique said invasion columns which drove to Fengchang and Changshu, thirty and forty-five miles southwest of the Kiangsi provincial capital, failed to outflank Chinese positions and were engaged in a battle with heavy casualties for both sides.

A Central News dispatch said Japanese spearheads penetrated both towns but had been surrounded by the defenders.

The Japanese seemed launched upon a new effort to storm westward into Hunan, where they failed and were beaten back before in three drives toward Changsha from the north and other attacks across the Kiangsi border from the east.

A clear route, at least across the southeastern third of the province, would be needed to advance their plan to ease the load on their coastal shipping by winning a complete north-south railway system.

BOARD CHANGE IS ANNOUNCED

U.S. War Production Board To Have More Control Over Priorities

WASHINGTON, July 8 (CP).—A reorganization of the War Production Board, emphasizing its control over priorities and the flow of raw materials, was announced today by Chairman Donald M. Nelson.

It is designed to deal with the latest phase of the American production problem, the control and distribution of critical materials many of which are becoming scarce and involved, in some respects, a fight between the War Production Board and the service departments for over-all direction of wartime production.

Canadian officials in Washington have been watching closely the day-to-day developments in the W.P.B. reorganization, particularly in relation to priorities, because any major change in policy might have far-reaching, perhaps ever disastrous effects on Canada's wartime production machine.

LITTLE CHANGED

The prevailing opinion tonight was that Canada's priority position in the distribution of raw materials and processed goods has not been changed by any appreciable extent.

One result of the reorganization will be to bring W.P.B. in closer relationship with the strategic direction of the war, not only through the American service departments but through the combined Production and Resources Board of the United States and Britain, the new agency to correlate the wartime machines of the two nations and indirectly, of Canada.

Is Decorated For Services

LONDON, July 8 (CP).—Acting Lt.-Cmdr. W. E. S. Briggs, R.C.N.R., whose seamanship resulted in saving the torpedoed tanker Tarbes, received the Distinguished Service Cross from the King at a recent investiture at Buckingham Palace, it was announced today.

He won the award while in command of H.M.C.S. Orillia last Winter, when the Canadian corvette helped the disabled tanker into a British port, saving a $1,000,000 cargo of oil.

WAR FRONTS GIVEN STUDY

Members of Pacific Council Review Situation in Egypt And Aleutians

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP).—The Pacific War Council looked at events on the Aleutian and Egyptian fronts today and one member said that the situation in the Near East was infinitely better than it was a fortnight ago, even though it is too early to determine whether the forces in Egypt can hold permanently.

The council's interest apparently was directed chiefly at Egypt. That was based on the idea that there is only one war and reverses or advances in any vital area affect conditions in other war theatres.

The eight nations represented on the council are those fighting actively in the Pacific.

IN ALEUTIANS

Leighton McCarthy, the Canadian Minister, reported in connection with the Aleutians that President Roosevelt had referred to the sinking of Japanese destroyers there by United States submarines and indicated that adverse weather since then had hampered further counter-blows.

Canada naturally is concerned over the Aleutians, since the Japanese forces which have established footholds there are nearer the Dominion than to continental United States. Furthermore, Canada now has land and air forces in Alaska.

Speaking of the fighting in Egypt, Walter Nash, the New Zealand Minister, remarked the council "Looked at just what's happening there."

"The situation is, we're holding," he said, "and that's good. I don't know whether it's permanent but it's infinitely better than it was a fortnight ago."

Three Small Vessels Sunk

(By The Associated Press)

The rescue of seventy-nine seamen from three small cargo vessels destroyed by enemy submarines in the Atlantic area was disclosed by the United States Navy's announcements of the sinkings Wednesday. Thirteen men were reported lost.

The three latest U-boat victims—one Canadian, one Latvian and one Netherlands cargo carrier—boosted to 347 the unofficial Associated Press tabulation of Allied and neutral ship losses in the Western Atlantic since America entered the war.

JEWISH ARMY IS NOT PRACTICABLE

Thousands Serving With British in Middle East—Other Thousands In Home Guards

LONDON, July 8 (CP).—Formation of a Jewish army in Palestine, a matter under discussion ever since the war reached the Middle East, has not been found practicable in the view of the British Government.

Sir James Grigg, the War Minister, told the House of Commons yesterday that Jews of British nationality are liable to service in the British armed forces just as other British subjects are. Jews of alien nationality may serve as volunteers.

Sir James added that there are more than 10,000 Palestine Jews serving in the British Army in the Middle East and that more than 23,00 are in various police formations which perform functions analagous to those of the Home Guard in Britain.

DROWN AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, July 9 (AP).—A girl and a soldier who attempted to rescue her were drowned and two other companions narrowly escaped being pulled under as a tragic climax to a night swimming party at Seward Park here tonight.

The victims were Miss Ardith Raymond, nineteen, of Wiley City, Wash., and Pte. Howard Helst, twenty-four, Alden, New York.

BOMBERS AGAIN OVER GERMANY

Royal Air Force Active After Grounded Five Nights In Row

LONDON, July 8 (Thursday), (CP).—Royal Air Force bombers attacked targets in Germany during the night, it was stated authoritatively today, after being grounded for five straight nights.

The latest raid, details of which were not immediately announced, was the second on Germany this month. Bremen was attacked last Thursday night.

In offensive-defensive operations, two German bombers were reported destroyed by British "intruder" pilots over German-occupied territory during the night.

On the home front, the Government said that "during the hours of darkness there was nothing to report."

TRADE SHELLS

LONDON, July 8 (CP).—German and British guns along the English Channel traded shells for more than an hour early today in firing precipitated by the German's first bombardment of the Southeast Coast in many weeks.

These outbreaks usually mark attacks on shipping moving through the Channel.

Dover had its first shellfire warning in some time but there were no reports from the Southeast Coast of casualties or property damage.

PLANES COLLIDE; FOUR AIRMEN DIE

Machines Crash While Flying in Formation—Men Were From Alberta Flying School

CALGARY, July 8 (CP).—Four airmen, two of them from Calgary, were instantly killed when two planes of a three-plane formation collided in midair and crashed seventeen miles east of Carmangay late today.

The men were the entire crews of the planes which were from No. 18 S.F.T.S., at Claresholm, Alta.

L.A.C. Claude McDonald Stearns, twenty-three, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stearns, Calgary, and L.A.C. Ernest Edward Guttridge, twenty-two, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guttridge, Calgary, were the Calgary flyers killed. Names of the other two are being withheld pending notification of next of kin, according to Wing Commander W. E. Kennedy, commanding officer of the school.

Conscription Issue Still Before House

Commons' Officials Studying Precedents in Case Government Decides to Put Compulsory Overseas Service in Operation on Confidence Vote

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—Officials of the House of Commons today were studying precedents in case the Government decides to adopt conscription for overseas service and asks the House to give it a vote of confidence before putting such conscription into effect.

Prime Minister King in his speech in Commons last night said that would be the procedure followed if the Government decided upon compulsory service for overseas.

Usually it is some motion by the Opposition that brings on a confidence vote. An authority of House procedure told the Canadian Press today that only once before since Confederation had a Government introduced a resolution asking for a vote on it. That was in 1926. Recently confidence votes have been frequently initiated by British governments.

PREMIER'S STATEMENT

In his speech Mr. King said if his administration ever decided to pass an order-in-council to extend conscription to overseas service he would see to it that "before the administration assumed the additional responsibility of enforcing its decision honorable members are given an opportunity, not for a second debate on the question of conscription, but of showing their confidence or want of confidence in the administration."

A House official said he did not see how the Prime Minister could manage to have a vote of confidence without opening the door to some conscription debate. If such a vote were requested during the present session, which probably will not end until the Fall, the debate might be limited somewhat by the rule that the same question may not be debated twice in one session. If it were delayed until next session such a rule would not apply.

TO INFORM HOUSE

The Prime Minister also said in his speech that if the administration arrived at the point where it decided it had become necessary to apply conscription for overseas service "and I should be in office at the time" he would ask his colleagues to join with him in seeing that Parliament was immediately informed.

"If I should be in office at the time" has been interpreted by some observers here as a hint from the Prime Minister that he might not remain at his present post much longer, and by others to mean that he thought conscription was a long way off.

No doubt when the debate resumes on conscription in the House either in committee stage of the bill or on third reading he will be asked to elucidate this point.

The Prime Minister's speech created considerable discussion among House members. Some quarters said certain of his colleagues were not satisfied with the Prime Minister's plan to have a confidence vote.

WANT TO PROCEED

They want the Government to be able to go ahead without again coming to Parliament, should conscription be decided upon.

Hon. P. J. A. Cardin in an interview today said the Prime Minister's speech did not soften the Opposition to the Government's plans. The promise to come back to the House for a vote of confidence before enforcing conscription for overseas did not change his position one iota.

In 1926 the Liberal Government of Mackenzie King had been returned as the largest group in the House of Commons but had not a clear majority over all other groups. It continued in office and Right Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Acting Leader of the House, moved a resolution at the opening asking it to endorse the action of the Government in holding office by voting confidence in it.

The motion was soon forgotten in the fight on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne and was still on the order paper when the Government resigned later in the session.

Military District Absorbed

BRIG. R. G. WHITELAW

FORMER District Officer Commanding M.D. 11, whose appointment as officer in charge of administration in the Pacific Command was announced yesterday by Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence. At the same time Brig. Whitelaw's promotion from the rank of colonel was announced. The appointment of the forty-eight-year-old veteran of the First Great War took effect coincident with the absorption of the Military District No. 11 headquarters into the Pacific Command. The district headquarters were removed from Victoria to Vancouver last week-end.

AIR SCHOOLS ARE CHANGED

Air Minister Announces Alterations in Training Centres East and West

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters announced today on behalf of Air Minister Power that arrangements now have been completed for changes in the capacity and location of many schools operating under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

The announcement quoted Major Power as saying the changes are being made to implement agreements reached at the recent Air Training Conference here to increase the flow of air observers and air navigators, and he added:

"These changes in schools, together with expansion of existing schools on their present sites, are expected to provide adequately and economically for the revised plans made at the Air Training Conference."

Included in the list of changes, some of which have been made public locally are:

At Malton, Ont., airport, expansion of the Air Observer School will necessitate closing down of the Elementary Flying Training School and the operating company of the latter school will take over management of the Royal Air Force E.F.T.S. at De Winton, Alta.

AT EDMONTON

At Edmonton the Air Observer School expands and the E.F.T.S. operating company assumes management of the E.F.T.S. at Bowden, Alta., which also will be enlarged.

At Regina the E.F.T.S. will be greatly enlarged and the A.O.S. at Regina will be moved to Pearce, Alta.

At Pearce the existing R.A.F. E.F.T.S. will be disbanded, "experience having shown that air conditions at Pearce are more suitable for the operation of heavy-type aircraft than elementary trainers."

The announcement quoted Major Power as saying:

"The decisions reached at the Air Training Conference mean approximately doubling the number of air observers and air navigators to be trained in Canada and it has been decided that the most logical and economical method of achieving this object is to increase very greatly the capacity of a large majority of existing air observer schools.

INCREASE TRAFFIC

"This, of course, will result in greatly increased air traffic at these schools and since, in several cases, elementary flying training schools have been located on the same sites as A.O.S's, the new plans necessitate disbanding several elementary flying training schools.

"In order to secure the required output the size of the remaining elementary flying training schools is being increased.

"Because of the experience and success of the civilian operating companies, it is considered desirable that these organizations should be kept intact if possible and, therefore, where elementary schools are being closed the majority of the operating companies concerned are being kept in business and given responsibility for the operation of R.A.F. elementary flying training schools in Canada.

"These schools are being brought under civilian management on the same basis as R.C.A.F. school of the same type."

CHALOULT TRIAL IS NEARING END

Evidence Is Complete in Quebec Member's Hearing—Counsel to Submit Argument Today

MONTREAL, July 8 (CP)—Argument of counsel will be heard tomorrow morning by Judge Edouard Archambault in the case of Rene Chaloult, Quebec lawyer and Liberal member of the Quebec Legislature for Lotbiniere, on trial here on charges laid under Defence of Canada Regulations.

Mr. Chaloult was on the witness stand throughout the third day of the trial. Shortly after the afternoon hearing opened, Crown Prosecutor Gerald Fauteux started a cross-examination which lasted nearly two hours. He then asked for a ten-day remand allowing time for transcription of the court stenographer's record of testimony and preparation of a written plea.

The remand was refused by Judge Edouard Archambault who said the trial would resume tomorrow morning. Before adjournment, Judge Archambault asked counsel to make their arguments brief and complete.

Mr. Chaloult testified that his speech here May 19 was a long series of arguments aiming to convince the Government that there was every reason "not to impose conscription for service overseas."

He then gave a detailed outline of his speech, supplying explanatory notes on each point brought out by Defence Counsel Fernand Choquette.

He said his strongest reason for having opposed conscription was that the adoption of this measure would be a violation of the late Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe's pledge to the people of Quebec, promising that conscription for overseas would "never, never, never" be endorsed by him.

DIES IN NEW YRK

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Ludwig Lore, sixty-seven, writer and well-known Socialist for many years, died today at his Brooklyn home.

A native of Friedeberg in Upper Silesia, Germany, Lore was a close friend of leading Socialists in the United States and Europe, including Leon Blum and Edouard Herriot, French political leaders.

GIVES THIRD IN RECITAL GROUP

Gwendoline Harper, Pianist, Enjoyed by Little Theatre Audience

Third in a series of four recitals [illegible] pupils of Gertrude Huntly Green's Studio, that given by Gwendoline Harper last night at the Little Theatre, Rockland Avenue, won enthusiastic applause and comment. The series will conclude with a programme tomorrow night, in the same hall, by several members of the class.

An audience that included many who were familiar with Miss Harper's work some years ago, was both surprised and delighted with the maturity, technical beauty, and brilliance which she has achieved in the intervening time. Her playing throughout gave an impression of completely confident and competent musicianship in which two features, particularly, were noteworthy—the beautifully controlled tone and the grace and facility of the hands.

From the first she inspired confidence, opening with the Gluck-Friedman "Ballet of the Happy Shades." Here she immediately established mood, and gave a most charming and thoughtful reading, the beauty of which was enhanced by the loveliness of her touch and the finely controlled tone.

The major work of the recital was the Beethoven Sonata op. 27, No. 1, also in the first part of the programme. This gave undeniable proof of the greatly matured musicianship, the pianist approaching the theme in a thoughtful and searchingly analytical way, and disclosing its inner riches. A good range of dynamics was shown in the four movements of the majestic work, the second and last movements offering specially fine examples of this strength in her technique. There was real maturity of expression, beauty in the shaping of the phrases, grace and significance of rhythm, and consistency of mood throughout this fine performance.

There was clarity in the Mozart Rondo in A Minor; brilliance and poetic impulse in the playing of the Liszt Etude in D Flat; steadiness Liszt Etude in D flat; steadiness in the Schumann "Novelette in D"; sheen and shimmer in the clever "Poissons d'Or" of Debussy; and a combination of all desirable qualities in the three Chopin numbers—the Nocturne B Flat Minor, with its brilliantly contrasted treble and bass clef voices; the Polonaise in B Fat; and the dynamic Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, which, after much applause, was followed by the closing encore, Beethoven's "Country Dance."

RUSSIANS CONFIRM LOSS OF KEY CITY

dicated, and the bulk of the German forces were reported held on the west bank. Repeated further efforts to cross the stream were said to have been thrown back.

With these landings reported liquidated in several places, there was no confirmation of the German claim that Voronezh had fallen.

The German High Command did not repeat today its Tuesday claim of the capture of Voronezh.

PRESSURE EASED

Despite the successes of the counter-attacks, Red Star, the Russian Army newspaper, said enemy pressure was being stemmed "with great difficulty."

It was on the Voronezh waterline that the struggle continued most intense. The Red air force and Red Army troops blocked the enemy's efforts to bring over new tanks and motorized infantry. Forty-five enemy tanks were destroyed the first day of this phase of the fighting.

Tanks, infantry and cavalry were employed in counter-attacks against German tank and motorized infantry. Bashkir horsemen from the Urals were reported fighting effectively, attacking both enemy tanks and troops.

In the central Voronezh sector, the first two major landing parties to reach the east bank were reported thrown back behind the waterline. There, bringing up reinforcements, the Germans renewed their attempts to storm across the stream. Individual groups penetrated the Russian positions, Red Army dispatches said, but later were exterminated.

TO NEW POSITIONS

On another sector (likely Staryi Oskol) the Russians executed an organized retreat to new positions under pressure of greatly superior numbers, and continued to repulse assaults from the second line.

Some units which were outflanked at this point hit the Germans from the rear.

Another unit defending a city which was not identified was reported to have withstood enemy attacks numbering as many as eight daily before it was forced to withdraw. In this unequal struggle, the Russian dispatches said, the Germans suffered heavy losses, including 162 tanks destroyed by anti-tank guns, grenades and fuel bottles.

The Germans sent in swarms of planes to attack this city, but the Red troops dug in deeply and had relatively few losses.

After three days and three nights of incessant battle the Russians were compelled to retreat when the enemy brought up reinforcements.

AT OLD TACTICS

The Germans have reverted to their old tactics in bombing cities ahead of their line of advance in an effort to spread panic in the Russian rear, clutter roads with refugees and confuse Red Army communications.

Front-line cities were subjected to fierce raids, with civilian quarters suffering many dead and wounded and great damage.

There was every indication, however, that the Red army was maintaining order in the face of this violent offensive.

In the counter-attacks, cavalry played a striking role. One unit of horsemen reported it had burned twelve enemy tanks and killed 500 troops in recapturing an inhabited point.

On the Kalinin front, northwest of Moscow, sharp but local combat developed in several sectors where the Germans had concentrated reserves for increased attacks on the Russian lines.

Alternate successes were reported with no important change in positions.

BERLIN REPORTS

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), July 8 (AP).—The German High Command today claimed the encirclement and capture of numerous Soviet troops northwest of Voronezh in enlarging a German salient in that general district and the surrounding of strong Russian forces on the Rzhev front west of Moscow.

Russain counter-attacks northwest of Voronezh failed, but the Russians continued to attack to the northwest in the Orel sector after being repulsed in fierce fighting that brought strong German aerial forces into use, a communique said.

The general picture as described by the Nazis thus portrays the Germans as broadening the spearhead they have thrust from Kharkov and Kursk about 120 miles eastward to Voronezh and 300 miles south of Moscow, while the Russians are doggedly counter-attacking on the north and northwest flank in an effort to smash through and cut off the advanced German forces.

Rzhev, where the Nazis claim to have encircled large Russian forces, is on the Upper Volga River and a railway 130 miles west of Moscow, on a front where the Nazis long have held a bulge during a comparatively quiet period.

As an example of the ferocity of the fighting northwest of Orel, the counter-attacking Russians have lost seventy-five tanks in three days in a single sector, the High Command stated.

U.S. Postage Stamps Good In Dominion

EDMONTON, July 8 (CP)—Construction of the Alaska Highway is making international history and as a small sidelight it also is making Canadian postal history.

For the first time in this country, United States postage is "good" on letters mailed in Canada. Canadian postal regulations have been relaxed and American Army engineers on the northern section of the Alaska Highway are permitted to mail letters bearing United States stamps.

One such letter was received at a newspaper office here.

Cowboy of Film Fame Enlisting

HOLLYWOOD, July 8 (AP)—Gene Autry is swapping the expensive cowboy outfit he's worn exclusively for seven years for an Air Corps uniform.

The singing star of Western movies proudly said tonight that he has been accepted as an enlisted man and has been instructed to report to Bolling Field, Washington, D.C., August 1. Since he is thirty-two he can't fly, so he is not certain what his duties will be.

COUNCIL BACKS WARTIME HOMES

Victoria Trades and Labor Body Supports Housing Project—Other Business

The Trades and Labor Council last night endorsed the Wartime Housing project in Victoria if all the houses complied with the city building regulations and had plastered interiors in the homes and had more variety in style of construction. The council also felt that too high a price was charged for houses on a former project.

Building trades delegates, Charles Chivers, the president, E. G. Corran and C. Peck were appointed to interview the director of Columbia Pictures with a view to the employment of union labor on all projects undertaken here by that company.

AMBULANCE URGED

Representations have been made to the Victoria Machinery Depot, it was reported to the council, that an ambulance be made available for immediate use in case of accidents occurring on the job.

A letter will be sent to S. Sigmundson, transit controller, asking him to meet the transportation committee of the trade council to discuss amalgamation of all transportation services in Victoria for the duration of the war.

The rehabilitation committee of the council received a report for the Electrical Workers' Union on this subject. This committee is receiving reports from all locals with a view to presenting a brief to the Rehabilitation Committee set up by the Government.

ASK SOLDIERS' INCREASE

A letter will be sent by the council to Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Defence, pressing for the earliest consideration of raising soldiers' pay to $50 monthly, on parity with United States forces.

Bro. A. Jacobs was elected to the board of the Y.M.C.A. as a representative of the trades council.

PROVINCE THIRD IN ENLISTMENTS

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP). — Military District No. 2 (Toronto) has provided more than 19 per cent of the enlistments for active service in the Canadian Army, it was reported in a reply tabled in the House of Commons today for E. H. Corman (Lib., Wentworth).

Percentages of other districts are: No. 4 (Montreal), 12; No. 3 (Kingston, Ont.), 10; No. 11 (Victoria), 8; No. 10 (Winnipeg), 8; No. 13 (Calgary), 8; No. 6 (Halifax), 8; No. 1 (London, Ont.), 7; No. 12 (Regina), 7; No. 7 (Saint John, N.B.), 5, and No. 5 (Quebec), 4.

Plan System of Pupil Exchange

Approached by Oak Bay municipality for permission to permit non-resident children to attend city schools, Victoria School Board last night decided to suggest the establishment of a system of pupil exchange through the establishment of a contra account.

The board will offer to pay Oak Bay municipality $75 a year per student [illegible] municipality the same rate for its students attending city elementary schools.

It was understood the agreement would have application particularly to assist the younger boys and girls having to travel greater distances to attend schools in their respective municipalities.

recently off the flight deck of the United States aircraft carrier Wasp.

The Wednesday evening communique said eight enemy planes were destroyed over Malta in the last twenty-four hours, raising to fifty-nine the total of Axis planes shot down thus far this month over that vital island.

A DIRECT HIT

One bomber flying over a transport column reported a direct bomb hit apparently on a truck loaded with ammunition which went up in a "very violent explosion."

In addition to the indicated long-range attacks on Axis convoys at sea and in African ports such as Tobruk and Bengasi, the Allied aerial forces were striking Rommel in the recoiled positions he has taken by curving his southern flank like a fishhook, with the shank on the seashore west of El Alamein and the point around to the southwest above the Qattara depression.

Allied fighter-bombers were reported to have shattered vehicles and gun positions and fired oil dumps in the immediate battle area. On the northern sector, patrols destroyed some Axis tanks and took a few prisoners.

Along the whole fifty-mile front stretching twenty miles from the El Alamein region and then turning westward thirty miles to the region south of El Daba, both sides kept up artillery fire.

IN STRONGER POSITION

The Allied air forces—British, Australian, South African and American—are in a stronger position now than when the present campaign began six weeks ago, the R.A.F. disclosed today.

In the forty-two days, it was announced 134 Axis planes were shot down in air combat for certain, more than 100 more were destroyed on the ground and fifty by anti-aircraft defences. The number of planes listed as probably shot down run into the hundreds more.

During the same period 110 Allied pilots were listed as missing—figures corresponding only roughly to plane losses because many planes shot down have been repaired and are flying again.

Since November 18, 1941, more than 483 Axis aircraft have been shot down for certain in the Western Desert alone, while those listed as probably destroyed run into the thousands.

This does not include Axis losses over Malta.

EMERGENCY MEASURES

Among emergency measures introduced at a secret meeting of the Egyptian Parliament, July 6, was an immedite credit of 2,000,000 Egyptian pounds, of which one-fourth was earmarked for the army. (The Egyptian pound nominally is worth about $3.70.)

Anti-air raid precautions were ordered strengthened and another emergency measure required physicians, nurses, pharmacists and public utility workers to stand by their jobs in any eventuality.

Two sweetless days, on which no candy or pastry will be made, were added to the three meatless days weekly in a further restriction of "unnecessary consumption."

EFFICIENCY OF A.R.P. PROVED

Orderly Work in Three Districts Tested Result of Long Practice

The A.R.P. exercise held here last night and observed in three city districts, proved the increasing efficiency of the organization here, as wardens and auxiliary services went about their duties quickly and with the familiarity of long practice.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, reported that the central control room in the police station was unusually quiet, indicating a lack of confusion and thorough understanding of the administration side of air raid protection.

District 2A West, under District Warden A. H. Marrion, reported nine incidents, and five incidents were arranged in District 3E, of which E. Parsons is in charge.

Mrs. R. Barclay-Ross, of District 4A in Victoria West, the only woman district warden in the city, said the nine incidents in her area were quickly brought under control, and complimented the crew of the auxiliary fire truck for its promptness. This truck was built by volunteer labor, and with the help of donations from the residents.

WITNESS TEST

Four interested spectators at last night's practice were G. King, N. McNaughton and G. Mead-Robins, of the James Island A.R.P., and Lieut. W. A. Lemon, R.C.N.V.R., now stationed at the R.C.N. barracks in Esquimalt. The James Island representatives were examining the system here with a view to adapting certain methods to their own organization, while Lieut. Lemon was able to compare the work to that performed under fire in Great Britain.

Although he was not a member of Great Britain's A.R.P., he had considerable experience with bomb raids, and told officials what might be expected in the way of destruction by high explosives.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, deputy civilian protection officer, took the party to a rescue from the roof of the Alkazar Mansions, Fairfield Road, by the Victoria Fire Department, and to the first aid point at Sir James Douglas School, decontamination centre at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and St. Joseph's Hospital.

At St. Joseph's Hospital supposed ambulance cases were treated, and an examination of first aid applied was made by nurses and internes.

BATTLESHIP IS BADLY DAMAGED

could go for repairs was not clear, but it was believed here she had returned to a German port. Date of the attack was not given.

The Tirpitz was attacked in the general area where the Germans claimed on Tuesday and Wednesday that they had sunk thirty-two vessels and a United States heavy cruiser out of a thirty-eight-ship convoy carrying supplies and war material to Russia.

AT SEA IN MARCH

The Tirpitz was last spotted at sea in March. British naval planes reported her presence when the German Naval Command apparently was planning to raid a convoy bound for Russia.

Under attacks from torpedo planes, she was chased to a Norwegian refuge and later located at Trondheim.

The German version of the recent attack on the Russia-bound convoy did not mention surface action, but said all shipping losses had been caused by German bombers and U-boats.

The Tirpitz was reported still at Trondheim as late as May 22 and units of the American navy joined British patrol forces in the North Sea in June to keep her bottled up at her fjord base.

STRONG NAVAL FORCE

The presence of the United States naval units in European waters was disclosed last June 11. The United States ships apparently were strong enough to cope with the Admiral Von Tirpitz, the cruiser Admiral Hipper and other lesser craft should they venture from the Norwegian bases, where they constituted a potential threat to the Arctic supply line.

The reported sinking of the German transport and damaging of another in the Far Northern waters indicated that the Germans might have been trying to ram through a convoy themselves, since the report mentioned at the same time the battleship and German transports.

The British Admiralty has had reports from Norwegian sources that the Tirpitz and the Hipper received several direct bomb hits during R.A.F. raids on the Trondheim area.

ELUDED THE NAVY

But with all the attacks on the ships, the Admiral Von Tirpitz apparently has eluded the British navy and gone to fulfill the primary mission on which Hitler dispatched her last Winter—to raid and harry Allied convoys to Russia.

The Admiral Von Tirpitz was named for the German admiral who initiated unrestricted submarine warfare during the first Great War.

She carries a complement of 1,500 men, according to Jane's Fighting Ships, British authoritative guide on the world's navies. She is 791 feet long, has a beam of 118 feet, carries eight 15-inch guns, twelve 5.9-inch and sixteen 4.1-inch cannon. She also has four planes with two catapults.

Of her armor, Jane's says that it is not reported "but is certainly equal to that of contemporary battleships of other navies."

The Bismarck, first of the Tirpitz class to be completed, was sunk May 27, 1941, after her brief but destructive career in the Northern Atlantic.

SCHOOLS' WAR EFFORT LAUDED

Report Discloses $10,888 Contributed by Students During Last Year

Showing $10,888.99 collected or invested by students to further the war effort, a report on the work in Victoria schools during the last year was praised by members of the School Board last night.

The report, presented by Trustee Mrs. A. S. Christie, disclosed that of this amount $2,238.29 was collected for the Red Cross, and $8,650.70 invested in War Savings Certificates.

The report showed that large quantities of salvage were collected, including aluminum, rubber, paper, toothpaste tubes, milk bottle tops, buttons, stamps, lead and tinfoil, string, bottles and phonograph records.

Large numbers of garments also were knitted for the men in the services and for children in Britain.

LEAVES ARE GRANTED TO SCHOOL TEACHERS

Resignations were accepted from two teachers and leaves of absence were granted to two others by the Victoria School Board last night.

Teachers resigning were Miss Tressie Gilliland, Quadra Street School, and Miss Daphne Williams, of North Ward School.

Leave of absence was granted to G. A. Brand, of the High School staff, to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force, and to Joseph Roberts, of the Oaklands School staff, to enlist in the Royal Canadian Navy.

It was decided to employ A. Prescott, band director, during the Summer months at a salary of $100 a month. Beginning September 1, he will be employed full time at a salary of $125 monthly.

NO TOTAL WAR FOR CANADA

When Mr. Mackenzie King returned from his recent visit to Washington he was asked by Mr. R. B. Hanson, the Conservative Leader in the House of Commons, if he had anything to tell the country as a result of his attendance at conferences held there. The only specific statement he made was that, "one thing is quite certain; it is that every country that is a member of the United Nations will have to put forth its utmost effort in helping to overcome the enemy." It may well be asked what the Prime Minister considers an "utmost effort" to be when he keeps on reiterating that his Government has no intention of enforcing conscription for overseas service at this time, and that it may never be necessary. Meantime dispatches from the Russian front tell of how in the present German offensive the Soviet troops are "borne down and forced to retreat by sheer weight of numbers." Russia has conscription and an immense reservoir of man-power; not great enough, it appears, to stem the advance of the enemy.

Mr. Mackenzie King is congenitally opposed to conscription, and, while the recent plebiscite was for the purpose of assoiling his conscience in this particular, he has no intention of acting on the verdict of the people. He has made this perfectly clear in his statement in winding up the debate on the second reading of the amendment to the Natural Resources Mobilization Act. Even if he does consider that his conscience has been assoiled he will not allow its reformation by vote to become operative. There is the question of Quebec's opposition to conscription that weighs heavily on his soul for Quebec is the basis of his partizan power. He believes, therefore, that conscription would be a disruptive policy, that it would cut deeply into the political unity of the country. It might even, in the Prime Minister's opinion, lead to the fall of his Government from power, a happening which he considers must be prevented at all costs. He will not, therefore, subscribe to Canada putting forth "it's utmost effort in helping to overcome the enemy." All he has done is to father a Bill in Parliament that, by implication, approves conscription for overseas service—in principle. There is no intention of putting this principle into practice.

Events in Europe, Africa and Asia, events that are stretching out towards this New World, too, afford compelling and conclusive reasons to show what the muster of man-power must be if the enemy is to be defeated. Any one of the United Nations that is holding back from the purpose of all-out effort is giving comfort to the Axis Powers. This country's Prime Minister says that his Government's policy "is not necessarily conscription, but conscription if necessary." No wonder that Berlin and Rome, and Tokio, too, should be making their capital out of the divisive forces at work in Canada in this country's participation in the war. The propaganda machine of the Axis Powers has even gone so far as to envisage the breaking up of the British Empire as an outcome of the rift in public opinion in this Dominion on the subject of conscription. It lays no stress on the fact that the people have given an overwhelming verdict at the polls for all-out war effort. The enemy sees in the diatribes of the Canadian Parliament the disruptive forces that he welcomes. Meantime for Canadians the paradox is that their Prime Minister should say that "every member of the United Nations will have to put forth its utmost effort in helping to overcome the enemy," and at the same time say, also, that "conscription for overseas service is not necessary now and may never be necessary." It is impossible to have "utmost effort" unless all are made to contribute to it.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING

The British Columbia Department of Education is to be commended for keeping up the six-weeks course of teacher-training once again to be carried out in this city. Six hundred members of the teaching profession have enrolled for the course this year and are now busy in the first week. There seldom was a time in the modern history of British Columbia when fully trained teachers were in more urgent demand.

So far as these young men and young women are devoting what may be the best part of their lives to an honorable and exacting profession they are entitled to all of the encouragement and support than can be given to them. These are trying days in all walks of life; times calling for hard work, patience, and endurance in a degree not comparable to other periods when a settled world faced normal tasks at peace.

It will be the wish of the people, and no doubt the concern of the British Columbia Department of Education, that the standard of education in this Province will be maintained; less perhaps on the side of frills and furbelows, as on the side of basic, practical requirements in the schools. As this aim is met, so will future generations of young citizens in British Columbia prosper. It is the teacher who holds the future of the student under early and closest review.

The good wishes of the community will go out to the six hundred participants in the teacher-training Summer school; coupled with the hope that their stay in Victoria will be both profitable and pleasant. Much of the future lies in their hands.

THE WHITTLING PROCESS

Effective action by a United States submarine flotilla against Japanese destroyers at Kiska Harbor and elsewhere at the extremity of the Aleutian Islands will not only be welcomed for itself, but also as a continuation of the whittling process which is visibly sapping Japan's strength at sea. Three destroyers sunk and a fourth set on fire in one action is a handsome bag, more particularly in view of the direct handicaps under which the United States craft had to operate.

In the same area, by plane and otherwise, Washington sources have previously claimed the destruction of a Japanese cruiser and several transports, not counting direct damage to an aircraft carrier. Even in its minor operations, more addressed to its own strategic defence than to possible aggression against the West, Japan is being heavily checked. As in other things, war is what can be proved. The destruction of light enemy naval tonnage is considerably more effective than the discharge of a few random shells at a coastal lighthouse or radio station. Such destruction is not a gesture, but a permanent loss to the enemy.

The task of ejecting the Japanese from small islands in the Aleutian chain, hampered by continued Summer fogs, remains to be resolved and caried out; but that it will be accomplished successfully can be seen from the aggressive and forthright spirit in which United States forces are going about that job. Meanwhile every Japanese vessel that is rendered unserviceable is a direct gain to the cause of the United Nations.

THOSE WHO OPPOSE CONSCRIPTION

The vote on the second reading of Bill 80 in the Federal House of Commons showed that fifty-four members out of 212 who were present are opposed to conscription for overseas service; in other words, are opposed to this form of total war effort. The opposition was made up of forty-six Liberals from Quebec, two Independents and the six members of the C.C.F. Party who were present when the vote was taken. The latter all represent constituencies which gave majorities in the affirmative in the recent plebiscite. In this respect, therefore, these C.C.F. members do not represent the viewpoint of the majority of those who sent them to Parliament. The opposition from Quebec was quite expected and an even heavier vote against the Government's Bill had been anticipated. Quebec, however, has the assurance that conscription will not be enacted at this time.

Were it possible that in the throes of war a similar decision could have been sought in the American House of Representatives or in the British Parliament it goes without saying that there would not have been a dissident vote. In both those countries the peoples now know that they are fighting for their very lives and are determined to leave nothing undone that will insure victory. That knowledge has yet to permeate the minds of many of the politicians at Ottawa. The extent of the ignorance that prevails was recorded in the vote on the second reading of Bill 80. There is a mournful significance of the lack of unity in Canada displayed in Parliament. It must be set down at this time, and in the face of a growing crisis, to the maintenance of partizan administration at Ottawa at a juncture when it is axiomatic that none should be for party and all should be for the State.

MR. JOHN COCHRANE

In conferring a life membership recently upon Mr. John Cochrane, the Canadian Club at Victoria has not only bestowed a merited honor upon an outstanding member, but has also helped to recall associations which go far back in its own life and development. Mr. Cochrane, a long-term president and past-president, is one of its oldest and most active members; and one, moreover, who contributed much to the strength and direction of the organization in its halycon youth.

While his services as a leading executive of the Canadian Club are well remembered, Mr. Cochrane is best known, perhaps, for his eloquence. His speeches in introduction of famous visitors from the broad world scene stood in a class by themselves. They helped to cement racial understanding and good will between Allies not alone in this war, but in the last war as well. A patient, careful speaker, Mr. Cochrane enjoys also the fire that goes with a Gaelic ancestry.

In more recent times as director of the speakers' committee, Mr. Cochrane has kept at a remarkably high level the flow of national and international speakers who have been honored here by the Canadian Club. The gift of a life membership was not only deserved, but what is more, it was earned. In saying so, The Colonist has only to look back over its own files for many, many years for eloquent proof in black and white. The felicitations of the community will follow the award.

DESERT INFERNOS

Absorbed with the discomforts of merely three days of warm weather, "somewhere between January and July," citizens in this area will be more inclined to feel sincerely for British tank gunners, who, stripped to the waist, have sweltered in the blistering insides of steel behemoths when temperatures ran to 135 degrees in the deserts of Libya and Egypt, as they did during the past week.

Such heat is difficult to put up with under the best of circumstances. What it must be in the interior of a tank in action, with smoke overlying the battlefield, and the task of serving its guns, can scarcely be imagined, except by those who have felt it. Reports from the desert battlefield have stated that some German prisoners taken in recent engagements have been exhausted. The defenders, however, had the same conditions to meet, and under more difficult odds.

Shade is unknown in the Western Desert, apart from a few scattered oases. The sun comes up like a ball of burning fire and remains in that condition in a nearly cloudless sky. It sinks without any twilight; and then cold, as strange to imagine as the intense heat, ensues. It is not mine temperatures of 135 degrees that the defenders of Egypt must daily face, but the swift change in temperatures between two wide extremes. Alongside such ordeals, three days moderate heat should be accounted a blessing.

TO THE SKYLARK

Ethereal minstrel! Pilgrim of the sky!
Dost thou despise the earth where cares abound?
Or while the wings aspire, are heart and eye
Both with thy nest upon the dewy ground?
Thy nest which thou canst drop into at will,
Those quivering wings composed, that music still!

To the last point of vision, and beyond
Mount, daring warbler!—that love-prompted strain—
'Twixt thee and thine a never-failing bond—
Thrills not the less the bosom of the plain:
Yet might'st thou seem proud privilege! to sing
All independent of the leafy Spring.

Leave to the Nightingale her shady wood;
A privacy of glorious light is thine,
Whence thou dost pour upon the world a flood
Of harmony, with instinct more divine;
Type of the wise, who soar, but never roam—
True to the kindred points of Heaven and Home!

—William Wordsworth.

Every man hath a good and a bad angel attending on him in particular, all his life long.—Robert Burton.

Note and Comment

By HANDHAM GRAVES

AN IRISH ALBUM (6)

The real charm of old Ireland was not in the cities, but in the country. You read much of poverty and degradation, of animals living in the parlor with the family, and so on. Quite frankly, though we toured Ireland extensively, we did not see much that corresponded to that. Poverty there was without question, but it was never the poverty of the spirit which robs pepole of their manhood. In parts of the south and west the land was poor, and gave a scant enough living; but that living was generously shared, and few there were who were in actual distress. I have seen more actual poverty in many other lands.

* * *

The average country village of the day was a trim, white-washed line of thatched cottages, each with the top and bottom half-doors that swung independently; a small group of shops, and the customary facilities of any rural settlement. The smallest cottage would be tidy and clean; with its open-hearth fireplace, its iron pots and pans, its built-in bellows, a fat round of soda-bread baking in the oven, and on the hob in front of the fireplace the inevitable pot of tea. Small stacks of peat would be piled near the back door, and what animals there were would be outside on the open common, and not in the house. Moreover, the animals would be fat, well cared for, and clean.

* * *

The predominant characteristics of the people in the country were patience and hospitality; a hospitality that literally would share its last crust. There were, of course, exceptions, as in any land. The home of a drunkard is the home of a drunkard everywhere. For the most part, the people were thrifty, smiling, and pleasant, making the most of what sometimes was very little indeed. In farming areas there were good seasons and bad, years of fat stock, and years of fodder shortage; but taking it on the whole, you were far more apt to hear a song, and to see a dance, in Ireland than you would have been in most other countries in the same period. Pipers were rare, but fiddlers were everywhere, and in the evenings the lilt of Irish music would roll out over the countryside, now plaintive, now gay, but ever with that intangible spark which set toes to twitching, and hearts to beating time. And it was a rarity if in the course of a day's journey you met with one unpleasant word. The curl of blue peat smoke, winding up from the chimneys at twilight, blended with the purple of the heather-clad hills, to make magic few could forget.

* * *

There were two classes of people who went touring in Ireland. One was that group which thought of the people as some strange race, in a kind of continuing open-air zoo; and the others were those who loved the land, and its people, and were one with the soil on which they stood. Those of the latter group—and we were—found a charm in the old land which the world has never been able to supplant. It was, not, may I say, a matter of politics, or of religion, for you would find people of all creeds and of all political views as closely under the spell of the land as those who had never known any other. There was—and no doubt still is—an indefinable witchery to the land, that wove magic spells for all who were brought into contact with it. All that was really necessary to see Ireland was an understanding, human heart!

* * *

Stand for a moment watching trading in the open market towns, on market days, listen to the soft roll of the Irish tongue, as, in Gaelic or in English, it coaxed and persuaded, with the subtle blarney of the land, and you would carry away with you impressions that a lifetime could not wear out. In the country, they would show you fat cattle, a piebald pony (one you can wish upon), or a white donkey, with pride. In the stables at Punchestown or Leopardstown, it would be fine Irish hunters or racers; "Leppers, Sor, if I ever saw one!" In the cities it would be Guinesses' draught horses, the pride of the land. At the Curragh, cavalry chargers paraded to the traditional "tr-rot" of the service; or danced to a military band, in practice for a "musical ride." Indeed, there was a legendary tale at Kingstown in connection with a cavalry charger, which is worth a separate item to itself.

A mustached and red-faced major, late for his boat-train at the station, hailed an outside car at Dalkey. "Ten bob, if you get me to the station for that train," he shouted to the driver, as he climbed on the step of the trap. The driver did his best, but it was apparent that the major would be late. Eyes flashing, and grumbling like a minor volcano, the major regarded the horse speculatively. "Dammit," he roared, "I know that animal. It is a charger. Here, give me the reins, man!" The exchange was made. "Squadron will tr-rot," roared the major. The ears of the horse pricked up. "Can-ter," came the next command. The horse changed its pace obediently. "Char-rge," roared the major. The charger laid back its ears, and flew like the wind. At the "charge," the major and a bewildered driver entered the station portico. "Halt," was the last command; and the trap stopped with a jerk. "Here's ten-bob; I did it!" the major flung back over his shoulder, as he raced for the starting train. A week or two later, so the tale goes, the same driver was in a similar predicament. "It's all right, Sor, I can get ye there," he assured his nervous passenger. "Just hould on, Sor, tight!" "Squadron will tr-rot," called the driver. "Can-ter," and "Charge" followed in good order; but the trap reached the station, passed the portico, swept out on to the boat dock, and very nearly went over the side. "Why didn't you stop at the station?" asked the exasperated passenger. "Sure an' I clane forgot the worrd to stop, Sor!" was the lugubrious reply.

Apparently the benevolent policy of the Federal Government still allows Japanese women to roam at large in Vancouver. We culled the following advertisements from a single issue of a Vancouver newspaper: "Japanese girl wants day work"; "Japanese-Canadian girl, day work, 30 cents hour"; "Japanese-Canadian, day work, thirty cents hour"; "Japanese woman, experienced, clean, wash"; Japanese-Canadian girl, hour work"; "Japanese-Canadian girl, work, thirty cents hour, fare"; "Young Japanese-Canadian, day work, fare"; "Canadian-Japanese, housework inexperienced"; "Japanese - Canadian girl wants work by hour" . . . Pigeons trained by T. Naylor have been placed at the disposal of Nanaimo A.R.P. officials, and experiments will be conducted in flying messages to and from the control centre on Kennedy Street . . . Dick and Harry are still talking about the monster fish that snapped their line and escaped off Whittaker's Point on Tuesday. Dick hooked the fish with 400 feet of line out, and it resisted all attempts to draw it closer to their vessel while circling around in an effort to shake the hook. By that time several spectators on shore were holding their cameras ready for a good action photograph. Harry left the steering wheel and joined Dick at the bow. They braced themselves against the mighty tugging and actually found their craft being towed along by the finny monster. "Might be Cadborosaurus," Dick gasped. "Probably a shark," Harry spluttered. A fresh southwest wind aided by efforts of the fish brought their ship dangerously close to the rocks. "Never mind the boat. We want the fish," Harry shouted. Together they pulled until their rod bent double and threatened to snap at any instant. Dick managed to reel in enough line to bring the fish about fifty feet from the vessel. Three men with cameras tensely waited to see what would break water. Then the stout line snapped and our heroes sat down suddenly in the careening craft.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CASH IS NEEDED

WINNIPEG, July 8 (CP). — Canadians must not cut down on their purchase of War Savings Certificates and Victory Bonds despite recent tax increases, stated George S. Spinney of the National War Finance Committee, Ottawa, when he passed through here today, en route West to discuss plans for the Autumn Victory Loan campaign.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of July 9, 1892

Will Be Here Next Week—Hon. Col. Baker, M.P.P., the newly appointed Minister of Education and Immigration, is expected down from the upper country some time during the present week or early next week. He has taken a house on Cook Street and will make Victoria his headquarters. It is said to be probable that pending the appointment of an additional minister, Col. Baker will have charge of the duties of Provincial Secretary in addition to those of his own department.

A Testimonial of Esteem—The congregation of the Reformed Episcopal Church, on Saturday last, presented Rev. C. E. Dobbs with a well-filled purse, accompanied with an expression of their esteem and regard. The reverend gentleman, through The Colonist, returns sincerest thanks to all those who contributed.

Late Shipping—Bark Palmyra, from Port Sample, arrived at San Francisco yesterday, and the steamers Umatilla, for Victoria and Oregon, for Portland, sailed therefrom. Steamer Maude arrived in from Nanaimo last evening with a full load of coal.

Letters to the Editor

All letters to the Editor must be legible, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 300 words in length.

"THANK YOU"

Sir,—In 1941 the Hampshire Clothing Branch of The Soldiers', Sailors' and Airmen's Families Association received through the Victoria, British Columbia, Branch of the Overseas League 1,246 garments. We understand that about thirty shipments have been sent. It has been our privilege and good fortune to partake in this great wave of generosity and sympathy.

"Sharing with you our best" was the slogan we found in one crate; but, we wonder if "Sending you our best" would not be more accurate. We pause, and think of you—thinking of us, praying for us, working for us. We look at the little human touches on the clothes; a brooch on a dress, a coin in a pocket, a gay little handkerchief — and we are touched, and wonder.

There are other things your gifts bring with them. They are not visible, but they are there; and at this time they are of special value. Courage, and fortitude, cheerfulness and zeal to carry on through difficulties, and disappointments, and loneliness, for are there not friends at the other side of the world in Canada who understand, and are sharing their best with us?

Yet there is another side to this picture, our gratitude to you. We have written many letters of thanks to you, but we know that it is impossible to acknowledge every gift, or to express our gratitude as we would wish.

Last year a little bit of Victoria, British Columbia, went to nearly a thousand homes in this county of Hampshire alone. In these homes lurk two very unpleasant things, which though invisible are always there, and cannot at present be expelled. One is poverty, the other, anxiety; for your gifts were given to the families of those in the forces who are in need. Sorrow has come to many, loneliness to most. Your kindness has entered humble homes in the ruins of ancient towns, shattered by German cruelty; and cottage homes in villages and hamlets, where amongst the quiet loveliness there are ugly reminders of war.

But mother writes to father in the navy, or the army, or the air force about the parcels from Canada; and "Don't the children look nice in their new clothes?" and "Won't they keep warm and well now?"—and father writes to us.

There is happiness, and joy too in these cargoes from Canada, although we can only repeat—albeit most gratefully—"Thank you."

Hon. Secretary.

THE MERCHANT NAVY

Sir,—Is there no organization capable of sponsoring the cause of the members of the merchant navy? These men, without whom our armed forces would not receive "the tools with which to finish the job," face the same hazards and dangers as do the men of the Royal Canadian Navy and yet are not accorded the same privileges and exemptions.

It's about time the general public were made cognizant of this deplorable condition.

DIRECTION OF WAR

Sir,—British arms, on all fronts, have met with successive reverses for which the recurring explanation is the lack of adequate armament. After thirty-four months of warfare, in spite of repeated assurances that production has reached, at home, an all-time high and is still increasing, we are confronted with the anomalous condition of adequate production on the one hand, on the other niggardly distribution to our forces in the field. Since appropriation of war material is controled by the Government, one is brought to wonder whether its members are all truly representatives of a country whose response to the call of total war has been truly magnificent, and still is.

The personality of Mr. Winston Churchill dwarfs that of any other member in the Cabinet. He embodies the British fighting spirit. His record over the last twenty-five years is one of dogged and unselfish patriotism. He has fought unremittingly the diaruptive influence of both pacifists and exponents of disarmament. His one weakness, in the present, as it had been in the past, is his attempts at military strategy for which he never was trained. All in all, Winston Churchill is and must remain Britain's, the Empire's standard-bearer.

What about his other associates? There is among them a large proportion of his most bitter opponents of yesterday, gathered in an organized group bent upon personal ends. One started his political career in 1916 as a conscientious objector; another, during the same period, agitated for peace at any price; one, though served with the army, but he seems to have had no following there among his present friends. All have been, over the years, determined pacifists. In the words of their late leader, Mr. A. C. Atlee, they had "steadily opposed and would continue to oppose the rearmament proposals of the Government." This was said in the House in 1936.

In 1940, for the sake of unity, the leaders of the minority group in the House, who claimed to represent the whole laboring class, were called to sit in the Cabinet. Their attitude towards pursuance of war efforts was mostly academic. They talked of "Socialism in our time," reminded the unions of what would happen to them if the war was lost and, on that elevated thought, advised Labor "to go to it." They roused themselves after June 22, 1941, and toured the country, calling on factories for real effort, threatening absenteeism they had winked at before. Their rallying cry was "Help to the Soviets," whilst in Russia, past phraseology was discarded and the centuries old appeal to sheer patriotism rang over the land; there one was told to fight for "Mother Russia."

A forceful propaganda campaign has swept over Great Britain, the object of which was to prove that there is only one important front, that the Soviets must receive all available supplies, because they are the only ones who are fighting. In the meantime the Near East front is overlooked, though defeat in that sector means an open door to the Caucasus from the west, jeopardizing the Russian defence in the East. Indeed, help patriotic Russia defeat the common enemy, but let it be done in workmanlike manner, leaving no gaps anywhere.

Mr. Keir Hardie used to say as early as 1893: "The loss of the Empire would hasten the advent of Socialism." But the Empire must be saved. This object is attainable if Winston Churchill secures the assistance at the helm, with him, of men, whose only incentive is fearless patriotism, that very same sentiment which prevails today in Russia. After the war is won, if Socialism must be, let it be, by all means, but only on its merits. Besides, there is no hope in the future for Socialism, unless the war is won.

THE RESERVE ARMY

Sir,—A few months ago you were kind enough to publish my letter commenting on the deplorable under-strength condition of the Reserve Army in Victoria. Since that time conditions have steadily deteriorated, and our coastline has actually been attacked. What is the position of our Reserve Forces today? A recruiting drive was put on and officials of Military District No. 11 gave it their blessing. During the drive, I understand, approximately 250 men were taken on the strength of the six units. This figure, which is probably in excess, rather than below the actual number, represents about 2.5 per cent of our eligible males in Victoria! Just think of it—2.5 per cent of the men eligible in the most beautiful city in Canada think it's worth defending. It's nothing more or less than disgraceful, and it's time things were done about it.

My nephew, who has been overseas two years this Summer, writes to say the lads are all in fine fettle there. However, since the Japanese have come in, he says the men overseas are concerned about things here. They feel that they are being let down. He was being too polite. What he meant was betrayed.

Think of it, you men of Victoria, who are not yet doing your bit here in Canada. You are betraying the lads who have gone over there to fight for what you hold dear. Get busy! For God's sake get busy and join a reserve unit now. Forget about your sore feet and imaginary pain here or there. It's your country, and it's up to you to help hold it for those brave lads when they return.

PACIFIC COAST DEFENCES

Sir,—"I noticed in The Times last night that they are going to build a military camp at Port Alberni, Atta boy. Jum, stick with 'em; you'll get a fighting base on Mount Arrowsmith yet." Such was the greeting extended me this Sunday morning by the first acquaintance met with on the curb.

Mount Arrowsmith is actually a range of mountains starting at Englishman's River Falls, gradually sloping upward to Arrowsmith, some 5,300 feet high, the range running westerly from the falls some six miles. Water in plenty for all purposes is to be had from the many streams tumbling to the sea, and there is a large sized lake, hard to find, no apparent outlet, but plenty of good fishing (not muddy tasting trout) to be had. However, in my prior drives for a fighting base, and also that of a rehabilitation scheme, one naturally thought the military scouts would take note of the word or term "ideal," and check on and up to that for all the required natural resources for the dual purpose claimed for this area. Had this been done, it would at once become apparent that though Port Alberni, instantly fully protected in the event of an attack, just happens to be on the wrong side of Arrowsmith; by claim being that it is behind the mountain, not in front, as in this case a dangerous front, that development should take place.

It may be my ideas of modern warfare and rehabilitation are all wet, but they are at least debatable, my contention simply being that the inner waters of Vancouver Island can be used and developed into the safest, strongest fighting base possible anywhere. Nothing but a "suicide squad" can be comprehensively, dare ever venture to attack this area even in its natural state. A base is not necessarily secret, it is what happens to the enemy in attack that counts.

Sitting near a canny Scot at a crucial soccer game many years ago the writer remarked: "That teams plays a wonderfully smooth combination." Scotty placidly remarked: "It does, but it's goal that count mon!" Sure enough, the other team won the fight, 3-0.

It may be a gag that a Government takes about thirty years to develop any worth-while proposal. We'll just forget about a steel plant altogether, the allotted time having now well expired, and keep a-gobbling big fish.

SALVAGE OF PAPER

Sir,—May we ask your co-operation in placing before the public the facts concerning our paper "bottleneck."

Certain forms of war work are not exactly one glorious round of pleasure, and preparing paper for market is like tea without sugar, a war condition.

The source of supply is the home, and it is there that the work of preparing tightly tied parcels of newspapers and magazines should be undertaken. Unfortunately there is a tendency to delegate this work to the volunteers of the Salvage Corps who are trying to force a Niagara of paper through a small pipe.

While the few workers tackle the job with amazing courage, the difficulty is increased by many workers leaving to go berry picking, or on Summer holidays and from other causes.

The point has now been reached where we cannot possibly accept any paper goods except tightly tied packages of newspapers, of magazines prepared separately the same way, and parcels of flattened cardboard cartons. Any other paper or cardboard whatever will be politely refused by our drivers, or if it arrives at the Cloverdale depot will be put in the incinerator. The only remedy for the above situation is for more workers to do their bit by coming regularly to the depot and helping. We will furnish street car tickets or some form of transportation.

A. H. PEASE,

JAPANESE IN ALEUTIANS

Sir,—In today's Colonist, under the heading "Would Give Away P.G.E." Mr. T. D. Pattullo is quoted as saying: "With strategic points on the Aleutian Islands in the hands of the Japanese, there is no time to be lost." "I cannot escape the impression that it will not be an easy matter to oust the Japanese from their foothold on the Aleutian Islands and, if this be so, it not only will be a general menace, but specifically will be a constant menace to shipping to Alaskan points by water up the Yukon."

Isn't this rather obvious? And isn't it a bit late in the day for an individual who has, on more than one occasion, referred to himself in public as "a professional politician," to suddenly discover that "there is no time to be lost."

What contribution did Mr. Pattullo make towards arousing the people of British Columbia to a sense of impending danger when he was in a most favorable position to do so?

May I suggest that it would be more to the point if the member for Prince Rupert directed all his energies towards the removal of the cause of his "anxiety," namely driving the Japanese, completely away from the Aleutian Islands!

W. E. G. CRISFORD.
2845 The Rise, Victoria, B.C., July 3, 1942.

According to Culbertson

"When, oh, when will I get a finesse to work?" wailed South.

"Probably when you learn not to take so many!" his partner answered tartly.

There was good reason for North's sarcasm. An ironclad game contract has been thrown away on this hand:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Rubber bridge.

The bidding

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass

West opened the top of his heart sequence. East cashed his heart tricks, then shifted to the ten of diamonds. Declarer made the correct play of covering with the jack and was very pleased when it held the trick. (Later he forgot all about the success of this finesse.) Trumps then were drawn in two rounds, after which declarer cashed the diamond king, then led to the diamond ace. The failure of the diamond suit to break 3-3 caused a frown of annoyance to flit over South's comely features, but he did not mind this so much until after he had ruffed dummy's last diamond and led a club to the queen. When East smothered that card, however, and on a club return declarer still had to concede another trick (and the defeat of his contract), he gave utterance to the heartrending wail recorded above.

South had had no ground for complaint in this deal. When the diamond finesse worked, the simplest sort of routine play would have insured the contract. After drawing trumps, cashing the diamond king, and leading to dummy's diamond ace, what could have been simpler than to lead dummy's last diamond and make East a gracious present of the trick, discarding a club from the closed hand? That would be East's third trick, and also his last. Now, if he returned a club, it would go up to dummy's A-Q; if he returned a heart, declarer could throw off his next to last club while dummy ruffed.

FIRE DRILL REALISTIC

Display by Naval Detail Features Inspection by Vice-Admiral Nelles, R.C.N.

A realistic fire-fighting display was a highlight of the tour of inspection of H.M.C.S. Naden yesterday by Vice-Admiral Percy Nelles. The chief of naval staff showed a keen interest in the precise drill of the naval fire fighters who went through all the exercises which might be involved in actual fire.

Admiral Nelles arrived at H.M.C.S. Naden shortly after 9 a.m., and was given a general salute by a smartly turned out guard and the band of H.M.C.S. Naden, drawn up on the upper parade ground. After the general salute the chief of the Royal Canadian Navy was presented to the heads of departments and then inspected the guard.

Proceeding to the lower parade ground, the chief of naval staff, the officers and ship's company of H.M.C.S. Naden heard prayers and then viewed an impressive march past. Admiral Nelles took the salute. Following the march past the fire drill exercise was performed—which included lowering an "injured" man from an upper window in a Neil Robertson stretcher and rushing him across the parade ground for artificial respiration.

Accompanied by Acting Captain F. G. Hart, R.C.N., officer commanding H.M.C.S. Naden, and the executive officer, Commander R. P. Kingscote, R.C.N., and others, Admiral Nelles went on a thorough tour of inspection of the establishment. His rapid stride kept everyone hustling to keep up with him as he moved from one point of interest to another.

A general salute was given the chief of naval staff as he left the grounds of H.M.C.S. Naden.

Veteran Mariner And Boat Owner Called by Death

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP).—Captain John Andrew Cates, who developed nearby Bowen Island as a Summer resort and had a varied career as a steamboat owner, miner, rancher and sealer, died here today.

Captain Cates, a Nova Scotian, came west in 1884 and after experiences in prospecting and sealing opened the Terminal Steam Navigation Company in Vancouver in 1899.

After adding to his fleet, Captain Cates bought the Bowen Island property, developing it until it became a popular resort. He sold out to Union Steamship Company in 1920, going to the Okanagan to ranch. At Tulameen he operated a mine, and then returned to the Coast to start a tug company, which he later sold.

Chief of Naval Staff Inspects Naden

APPOINTING COMMISSION

Body of Five Representatives Will Investigate Coast Shipyard Situation

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP).—Workers in Vancouver shipyards today proceeded with their promised thirty-day trial of the Government's continuous production schedule amid further reports a Royal Commission might investigate shipyard work problems and protests from their leaders against an order in council providing fines and prison terms for those who fail to work the seven-day week.

The order in council tabled at Ottawa yesterday makes it an offence for any shipyard worker to refuse to work or quit work "in any shift to which he has been assigned," and also makes it an offence for any shipyard operator not to organize operations of his yard so that work is carried on continuously throughout the week.

Lawrence Anderson, secretary of the Joint Shipyard Trade Union Conference, said that when a conference delegation visited Labor Minister Mitchell in Ottawa recently to urge a six-day week, its members were given to understand the order had just been passed but would not be made effective.

"This (last night's announcement of the order) looks like trickery," Anderson asserted. "They hold out the thirty-day proposition, the unions accept it in good faith, and as soon as we get the situation stabilized here they come along with the order.

VERY PROVOCATIVE

"This action is very provocative to labor, after those assurances given us at Ottawa that the order would be waived. It seems hardly conceivable that the Government would proceed in this manner."

Anderson added the order "seems to negate the purpose of the Royal Commission," a reference to persistent reports a commission would investigate the shipyard situation to determine impartially the advantages or disadvantages of a seven-day week.

Last night Christopher Pritchard, of the Plumbers' Union, president of the Metal Trades Council, was chosen to represent the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada on such a commission following a telegram received by the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council from J. A. Daoust, secretary-treasurer of the congress at Ottawa. This wire said:

"Hon. Humphrey Mitchell appointing Royal Commission to investigate conditions in Vancouver shipyards as per agreement with delegation. Commission will be composed of five—a judge, two employers, one Trades and Labor Congress, one Canadian Congress of Labor. Please contact Metal Trades Congress and have them appoint representative on the commission."

MAN OR MONSTER?

NO, this isn't a man from Mars! He's a Canadian shipyard worker, welding the vital parts of a trim Corvette . . . adding striking power to Canada's fighting navy. Tough work—yes! Work that needs the sort of health good eating brings. No wonder he says: "A morning bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, with milk and sugar, helps me sail through the toughest days. Make Better Jams and Jellies

Use CERTO- it gives SURE RESULTS

• Short Boil Saves Time and Effort.
• More Jam or Jelly from the Same Amount of Fruit.
• Natural Fresh Taste and Color.
• No Fear of Failures.

CERTO Makes All Fruits Jell Perfectly
Quick—Easy—Economical

SHORT BOIL—For jam you need only a one to two-minute, full rolling boil—for jelly a half minute to a minute.

MORE JAM OR JELLY—So very little juice has time to boil away that you get up to two-thirds more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

BETTER TASTE AND COLOR — In this short boil the fresh flavor and natural fruit color stay in the fruit.

CERTO is Pectin Extracted from Fruit

When pectin is used in making jam and jelly, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board Order No. 150 allows you to use sugar not in excess of one and one-quarter pounds of sugar for each pound of fruit. On the basis that "fruit" means "unprepared" fruit, this allows you to make your jams and jellies the Certo way which gives you approximately two-thirds more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

Here From Ottawa

Local Artist Gives Picture For War Fund

Emily Carr, distinguished Victoria artist of Indian life and background, has made a tangible contribution to the British Columbia Indian Spitfire Fund in donating for sale one of her early works, "A Street in Masset, Queen Charlotte Islands."

Acclaimed as one of the leading contemporary painters of this continent, Emily Carr brought further honors to her native province as winner of the Governor-General's Literary Award for 1941 in the field of general literature, for her recent book, "Klee Wyck," a series of intimate sketches and personalities among the Coast Indians with whom she has lived and worked. "A Street in Masset," painted in 1912, no longer exists, and has therefore a documentary and historical value. It is being purchased by public subscription and will become city property, to be presented to the Edward and Mary Lipsett Museum of Indian Art and Relics in Hastings Park, Vancouver, where it will be hung permanently.

For the time being it will be on view at the Vancouver City Museum, corner of Hastings and Main Streets, where donations to the fund may be made, a box having been provided for this purpose. Donations may also be sent to Mrs. Mary Sieburth, 4444 Puget Drive, Vancouver, to whom Miss Carr sent the painting.

Since the closing of the "Marys of Canada" drive a year ago, of which she was the director, Mrs. Sieburth has continued to work for "Wings for Britain," assisting the Indian fund as liaison officer with Miss Harriet Gerry, social worker and district nurse for the Department of Indian Affairs.

A special invitation is extended to the Marys and Edwards of the province to subscribe to the fund, and well-wishers by any other name will also be welcome. Donations should be marked "Indian Spitfire Fund," names of all subscribers will be inscribed on a list attached to the back of the painting.

Weddings

OLFORD—CURRIE

St. Michael's and All Angels' Church, Royal Oak, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when Rev. Canon Hitchcox united in marriage Catherine Alice, daughter of Mrs. E. M. Currie, and Mr. Harvey Edwin Olford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olford, Port Arthur, Ontario.

The bride wore a blue lace two-piece dress with beige accessories, and her corsage bouquet was of mauve orchids.

Girl Guide Notes

FIRST COLQUITZ

The ladies of the First Colquitz Local Association Girl Guides met recently in the Colquitz Hall for the final meeting of the season. A vote was taken on camping and the members were unanimously opposed to groups of Guides going to camp this season. Mrs. Marchant, 1912 Oak Bay Avenue, and Mrs. Buckingham, Colquitz, won the strawberries. At the close of the meeting tea was served.

Children Doing Their Part for Red Cross

The children in the neighborhood of Southgate and Humboldt Streets have arranged a benefit show to help the Red Cross and it will be held each day for the remainder of this week at the back of Mr. A. T. Watson's home. The tickets sell at one, two and three cents each and already the children have made over $5, tickets having been bought in advance. Bobby Nichol will sing and will take part in a little sketch, "When I Was So Young," together with Ann Banner and Bobby Ferguson. Alec Ferguson, Ernest and Walter Norton will recite and Dorothy Bangér will recite "The Maple Leaf." David Lee will show pictures of English country scenes and a few local views. Rodney Wills is the "ticket man" and is doing a good business. The performance starts at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Watson will be responsible for taking the money to the Red Cross headquarters.

Ottawa Mansion Will be Headquarters of "Wrens"

Ambrose O'Brien Home Will Be New Training Centre—Gardens and Spacious Rooms Will Accommodate Women's Naval Service

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP)—There's nothing romantic about a big towered twenty-roomed Elizabethan house on Laurier Avenue in Ottawa, but early in August, according to plan, the building—one-time Ambrose O'Brien mansion—will become No. 1 R.C.N.S. training centre for Wrens.

The school will be in surroundings to which most Canadian girls would like to have been accustomed. There are spacious grounds where the girls can stroll or rest in off-duty hours. There are terrace-like verandas framed by green hop vines.

THE ROOMS

Women naval officers will probably use the big double drawing-room with its ceiling-high windows. Navy rations should taste like filet mignon in the oak-panelled dining-room with its huge fireplace.

There's kitchen space to feed a ship's company behind the dining-room and a whole suite of washing rooms, cupboards, serving rooms, butlers' pantries and servants' quarters.

Upstairs is a maze of rooms, bathrooms and cupboards. It will take some planning to make these shipshape, but bath night will be a glamorous occasion. Of the seven bathrooms on the two top floors, only one or two are mundane white porcelain. The rest are exotic creations in lavender, green, yellow and a deep blue not far from Wren blue.

FIRST CLASS OF FIFTY

Original plans called for the Wrens to be in training by the end of July, but it is expected that several weeks will elapse before the first class of fifty or so will be taken in. This first group will be given a few weeks' rigorous preliminary training and from its ranks will come the future officers of the Wrens in Canada.

Sea Scouts Hold Special Social

The final meeting for the Summer, immediately preceding the exodus of the troop to camp, developed into an interesting social, featured by a wiener roast and gallons of cocoa. The chairman of the group committee, Mr. F. E. Taylor, after a few appropriate remarks called upon Scoutmaster Bardsley to present carnation corsage bouquets to Mrs. F. G. Aldous, president of the Women's Canadian Club, and to Mrs. E. J. Lewis Smith. Mrs. Bardsley, widow of the late "Skipper" Bardsley, was presented with a handsome bouquet as evidence of the Scouts' affection for her husband by three selected Cubs and Scouts.

The vice-chairman, W. S. Kirkpatrick, presented the troop and pack with a bronze plaque made by the employees of the Red Cross Workshop bearing the name of the hall, "Skipper Bardsley Hall." His accompanying remarks reflected the loss felt by all in the passing of the "Skipper." Mrs. Aldous, mother of the late Peter Aldous, who was one of the troop's real Scouts and who was lost in a flying patrol over the North Sea, presented the boys with a beautiful racing yacht which belonged to Peter as another tribute to this live group.

Scout Commissioner Freeman King, on behalf of the group, presented a Thanks Badge to Mr. E. J. Lewis Smith as a tangible recognition of the appreciation the boys have for "Smithy," who has spent so much time working on the construction of the Scout hall. The balance of the evening was spent in singing, followed by refreshments, celebrating the "twenty-first" birthday of the secretary, Mr. H. Stevens.

Women's Institutes

COWICHAN

DUNCAN, July 8.—Fifteen members attended a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Mellings, of the Cowichan Women's Institute, the president, Mrs. A. X. Rey, occupying the chair.

Arrangements were made for a tea to be held on July 15 at the home of Mrs. Tarlton Storey, the proceeds to go to the local refugee rooms. A garden party will be held in August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aldersey for the same purpose. It was reported that the sum of $40 had been raised in June for the refugee rooms by means of a cooked food sale.

Letters of thanks for donations were read from the Grace Hospital, Vancouver, from the Winston Churchill Fund and from the local Red Cross. A committee of three was chosen to arrange the annual fruit and vegetable shower for the Queen Alexandra Solarium in the Autumn, and the names were taken of volunteers to aid in jam making for shipment overseas, under the food conservation committee.

Tea was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting, after deciding to hold no business meeting in August.

ENGAGEMENTS

LARSON—STRONG

The engagement is announced of Muriel May, only daughter of Mrs. J. C. Strong, 1017 Kings Road, and Staff-Sergeant Strong, who is serving overseas, to L.A.C. James M. Larson, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Larson, Pontrilas, Sask. The wedding will take place at 8 p.m., on August 1, at the First Baptist Church.

McKEAN—PROVAN

Mr. and Mrs. J. Provan, 1350 Slater Street, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Annie Bethia (Ann), to Mr. Robert William McKean, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McKean, Leigh Road, Langford. The wedding will take place on July 20.

Navy League Chapter's Party Brings in $285

The gratifying sum of $285 was realized by the garden party held yesterday afternoon by the Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., at "Molton Combe," the home of Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Newport Avenue. There was a large crowd of visitors and the garden made an ideal setting for the party, the stalls being arranged round the spacious lawn, with the attractive tea tables at one end in the shade of the trees.

Mrs. F. L. Stevenson, wife of Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson, R.C.A.F., opened the party after a few words of introduction by the regent of the chapter, Mrs. J. L. Ford. Mrs. Stevenson paid tribute to the work being done by the chapter and wished the members every possible success in their undertaking. She was presented by Mrs. Ford with a lovely corsage bouquet of gardenias, and to Mrs. Sampson, in appreciation of her kindness in lending the garden, Mrs. Ford presented a bouquet of roses and pale blue scabious.

The tea arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Renfrew, members of the chapter assisting in serving. The serving of tea as a beverage had been made possible by the donation of a supply of tea before the ration regulations came into effect.

The grocery box was in charge of Mrs. A. W. Bradley; the woolies stall, Mrs. D. W. Carter; the white elephant stall, Mrs. T. McGimpsey, Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Mrs. M. A. Kent and Miss Kathleen Johnston. Ice cream was sold by Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Biggin, and the contests were in charge of Mrs. C. W. Plumb, Mrs. W. Brynjolfson, Mrs. T. Watt and Mrs. J. Birchall. Mrs. A. I. Cowan assisted those wishing to have a peep into the future, and Mrs. A. D. Whittier sold Navy League Chapter cook books. The beautiful petit-point fender stool, the work of Mrs. James Baker and in charge of members of the chapter, was won by Mrs. Shadbolt.

A special attraction of the afternoon was the programme played by the R.C.N. band, and the vocal solos by one of the band members, who possesses an unusually fine voice, was much appreciated. A loud-speaker system amplified the music so that it could be heard in all parts of the garden.

Bingo was a favorite pastime and attracted many players, and bridge was in progress in the house.

SCORES PLAN OF SPENDING

It was important the legislation go through quickly and the House should assist.

INLAND WATERS

The House in committee, approved an amendment to the original bill redefining inland waters. The original provision was that the eastern limit of inland waters should be deemed to be a line drawn from Father Point, Que., to Point Orient. Under the amended bill, the limit will be the west end of the Island of Orleans.

Mr. Ilsley said it had been considered the line from Father Point to Point Orient was too far east.

Also approved was an amendment to the original bill removing all ships from the war risk insurance provisions. Under the original draft, vessels in inland waters might benefit under the insurance provisions.

Fisheries Minister Michaud, with Mr. Ilsley, participated in the debate.

EASILY CANCELED

Mr. Hanson said the order in council providing compensation for fishermen could be wiped out by a stroke of the pen, and left everything "to the whim of the minister." If the minister wished to be arbitrary he could take action whereby no compensation would be paid anyone. The protection should have been incorporated in the war risk bill.

"Can you imagine any instrument in the hands of an unscrupulous minister that would be better fitted to drive right into the ballot boxes the votes of the would-be recipients of this largesse, because it is to be granted on the grounds of compassion," said Mr. Hanson.

In the original War Risk Insurance Bill, boats operating on inland waters were covered by the insurance plan, but after House members said this left coastal fishermen without protection the bill was changed to withdraw all boats from the insurance protection. The order in council to compensate fishermen up to $2,000 was approved as a step separate from the War Risk Insurance Bill.

Mr. Michaud said it was in the public interest to ensure fishermen compensation for war damage. It would encourage them to stay in the industry which some were threatening to leave.

The administration of the order would be similar to the administration of other orders, with the Minister of Fisheries acting in this case as the Minister of Agriculture did in respect to farm payments.

FORM OF DOLE

"This is in the form of a dole to be handed out by the minister just like some doles to agriculture," said Mr. Hanson.

"I object to the principle of power being given to the minister to hand out money wherever he wants to, and this method of dealing with the public funds is wrong in the Department of Fisheries, the Department of Agriculture and every other department."

"People are not willing to give carte blanche to any minister or government to switch war moneys to other purposes," said Mr. Hanson.

The system of paying fishermen for war loss should be incorporated in the bill. The principle of using order in council for such outlays had been carried too far.

The theory of protection of fishermen was right, Mr. Hanson said, but he objected to the method used by the Government.

"Legislation by order in council had gone beyond all limitation. "Our control over Government expenditures is gone."

RISK INSURANCE

George Cruickshank (Liberal, Fraser Valley) read a telegram sent to British Columbia members by the Vancouver Board of Trade urging that insurance companies be instructed immediately to accept, on behalf of the Government, applications for war risk insurance, with a deposit to be decided by the Government. This would establish a fair basis for considering claims under the war risk bill if damage preceded its passage.

Mr. Ilsley said he had received a similar wire and had replied saying he could not authorize insurance companies to accept applications or write insurance policies as he did not have the legislation approved by the House.

If he had used the Government's power to enact legislation by order in council he would have the war risk insurance system in operation and would not be embarrassed by telegrams such as that read by Mr. Cruickshank.

RATES ARE HIGH

J. J. Kinley (Liberal, Queens-Lunenburg) said their should be provisions for compensation on more than one boat owned by one man.

Tom Reid (Liberal, New Westminster) said he had been informed a certain class of men owning boats worth between $3,000 and $6,000 could not obtain insurance, and those who had boats worth more than $6,000 had to pay a yearly premium of from 45 to 50 per cent. The Government should provide compensation for a boat and allow a fisherman to insure above that amount with a company if his boat was worth more.

There had been submarines on the Pacific Coast and the fishermen were alarmed. They believed that if attacked they would have little opportunity of escaping with their lives because a submarine crew would take care that no survivors escaped to give the alarm.

Yet those fishermen were to be compensated only up to $2,000 for the loss of a boat and would not get that if they had placed any commercial insurance on their craft.

He urged an amendment that would permit the compensation to be paid regardless of what regular insurance is carried, as in the case of the free insurance on dwellings.

ON PACIFIC COAST

A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni) said Estevan Point on Vancouver Island, shelled by Japanese craft recently, was in the centre of the fishing industry on the West Coast, and this indicated the hazards faced by fishermen.

He had been informed no company insurance was available on boats from $2,000 to $6,000. Fishermen complained they were unable to pay for insurance even when it was available.

The House Fisheries Committee should have met to discuss the order in council, and a better order would then have resulted.

Mr. Neill said he objected to the order providing for "compassionate relief."

"Where do you get the 'compassionate'?" asked Mr. Neill.

Compensation of $2,000 was too small. Apparently it had been based on the cost of smaller boats in use on the East Coast. The amount could well be raised to $3,000, and even then many owners would take a severe loss if their craft suffered war damage.

Mr. Michaud said there were about 32,000 fishing boats and vessels in Canada. The $2,000 compensation was set, as it appeared, to cover all the classes of boats for which it was intended. There might be a class of trollers costing between $2,000 and $6,000 which would call for special treatment.

SMALL FISHERMEN

Consideration would be given the case of the small fisherman with two or three boats, the three of them together not worth more than $2,000 but needed in his operations.

Answering a question by D. G. Ross (Con., Toronto-St. Paul's), Mr. Ilsley said war risk insurance rate on the Pacific Coast was 1 1-4 per cent for three months provided the vessel did not go west of Cape Spencer. He had no information confirming a claim made in the House that insurance was not obtainable.

On the Atlantic Coast, the rate was 2 per cent for three months.

Mr. Ilsley said he thought the Government should not go further than the $2,000 compensation. If marine insurance rates went beyond reason, the Government might be compelled to adopt a Government Insurance scheme.

T. L. Church (Con., Toronto-Broadview) said Canada could not stand the expenses laid on it by Mr. Ilsley and his advisers. Under the war risk insurance, dwellings were to be covered up to $3,000, but he did not know of an industrial worker who had a home worth that much.

"There is no protection for the industrial worker—he has lost his property already through taxation," said Mr. Church. The bill should be left over until next year.

Mrs. Denton Holmes is the general convener and members of the auxiliary are assisting with tagging. The speed of lightning varies between 30,000,000 and 300,000,000 miles an hour.

Ambulance Is Gift for Use In Emergency

The gift of an anonymous benefactor, a fully-equipped ambulance has been donated to the St. John Ambulance Association to be used in the event of wartime emergency by the Victoria St. John Ambulance Women's Auxiliary, No. 1.

"The gift is from a Victoria citizen who prefers to remain anonymous and who, having followed the activities of the 'Ladies in Blue' at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, has taken this means of supporting the war effort and encouraging this fine group of women in their self-sacrificing voluntary undertaking," said a spokesman yesterday.

The auxiliary was organized in June, 1940, for war service under the direction of its commandant, Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton. In addition to initial training in first aid and home nursing, its members have been given instruction in practical hospital nursing under the guidance of Mrs. Pemberton and the hospital staff.

TO ENLIST MEMBERS

It is planned to enlist throughout Canada, under the direction of the St. John Ambulance Association and the Canadian Red Cross Society some 6,000 women as members of Voluntary Aid detachments, officials said yesterday. They will be given courses in first aid and home nursing and will then receive practical hospital training, or may be selected for service with mobile units, to go anywhere they may be required on short notice.

Some V.A.D.'s will be given an opportunity when fully trained to serve overseas. They will be attached to the Canadian Army and will come under the control of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, officials said.

Mrs. W. C. Woodward, who for many years has been interested in the work of the Order of St. John and is patroness of the Nursing Division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade in British Columbia, has consented to be the general convener of a committee who will shortly call for volunteers.

A further announcement regarding the V.A.D.'s will be made soon, officials said.

Small Fire at Lumber Mills

A fire in the sawdust bunker at the Moore-Whittington Lumber Co., Ltd., mills on the corner of Pleasant and David Streets occurred yesterday at 5:57 o'clock. City firemen extinguished the blaze, and no damage loss was reported.

The city firemen also attended a grass fire at 12:51 p.m. at the corner of Esquimalt and Tyee Roads, and a roof fire at 332 Catherine Street at 2:30 o'clock.

Oak Bay firemen extinguished a roof fire at 2426 Windsor Road at 9:21 o'clock.

Saanich firemen attended two grass fires, the first on Saanich Road at 12:30 p.m. and the other on Boleskine Road at 12:35 p.m.

DANCE AT LUXTON

A dance was held in the Luxton Hall on Saturday evening for men of the services and also in honor of W.O. J. A. and Mrs. Betts, who with their family are leaving for Halifax shortly. During the evening Mr. H. A. Downard expressed the regret of the district at losing Mr. and Mrs. Betts, both of whom have been active in the community welfare, especially that of the young people. They were presented with a gift and Mrs. Betts and Miss Patricia Betts were given corsages by Miss Adeline Rhode. Mrs. J. T. Gill sang several pleasing solos, refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

Armenia's tobacco producing area has been expanded by one quarter this year.

TAKE A TIP FROM THE CAMEL!

Ride BETWEEN the Humps
AVOID CROWDED RUSH HOURS

Natives say the best place to ride a two-humped camel is BETWEEN the humps. The camel thinks so too.

Likewise on your transit system, riding BETWEEN the humps of morning and afternoon rush hours is more comfortable, especially in wartime.

So, when you're shopping, take a tip from the camel. Ride between the humps—in the hours between 10 and 4 and after 6 o'clock.

CHAPTER XXII.

Her words struck a responsive note in Fay. So many times she had felt that she did not know or understand Tony or his real aims in life. But perhaps it had been her fault. She had been nervous and upset, suspicious of his every move. Her family had always spoiled her. She knew that now. But when she went back to New York she would make it a point to understand, to find out what had caused these barriers and put an end to them forever.

By the end of the second week she was more than ready to go back. She felt not only physically, but mentally refreshed.

She took the day train back to the city, and at noon she entered the dining-car for an early lunch. She looked radiantly beautiful in her blue wool suit and matching turban. Health and high spirits sparkled in her eyes.

At a table sat Lynn Davis. He got up and came to meet her. "Well, Fay! I do run across you at the most unexpected times."

Fay was surprised. "What are you doing on this train?"

"Sit down and I'll tell you."

She sat down and ordered her lunch. "You've certainly got everything," Lynn was telling her, eyeing her with intense satisfaction. "Youth, beauty, intelligence."

This amused Fay. "And a husband," she added.

"Must we talk about that? Why don't you give me a break?"

Outside the landscape was spinning by. "You still haven't told me what you're doing here," she reminded him.

"I've been in the country over the week-end. A friend of mine has a place. Wonderful spot to recover from the gay life," he assured her, smiling.

He and Fay talked all afternoon. At four he ordered a highball. Fay had orange juice. "Doctor's orders," she confessed. "I'm a new woman after two weeks in the country."

"You're perfect! You're gorgeous!" He reached for her hand.

She evaded him, laughing. She was unprepared for his next words. "You don't belong in a night club, Fay. You're too good for that kind of life. Why don't you walk out on the whole thing? Divorce him and marry me."

She stared at him. It was impossible to believe that he was in earnest. She had heard he was a playboy, accustomed to having what he wanted. The fact that he scarcely knew her made no difference to Lynn Davis. The fact that she was beautiful and he wanted her was doubtless reason enough in his mind for her to divorce Tony and marry him. It was so ridiculous that Fay, recovering from her first surprise, smiled. "You mustn't even say things like that," she scolded.

"All right, beautiful! But you can't blame me for trying."

It was night when they arrived in New York. Fay had written Tony to meet her and he had answered that he would be there. It was Monday night. The club was closed, so he could easily make it. But as she stood in the station with Lynn, her bags at her feet, Tony did not appear. Lynn seemed to think it very funny.

"Maybe he's out with that red head," Lynn remarked.

He could not have said anything worse. Fay was already close to tears. She had thought that this homecoming would be perfect. Why didn't Tony come? Her eyes searched for him through the throngs. It was now eight o'clock. They had waited twenty minutes.

"I'll drop you off at your hotel," Lynn said. "If he isn't there, how about stepping out with me tonight?"

Fay shook her head; but he urged. "Here's my card and private telephone number. If you change your mind let me know."

She insisted upon taking her own taxi. The sight of Lynn Davis would certainly not make things any better with Tony. What could have happened? Maybe he was ill. She decided to call Artie as soon as she reached the hotel. But as the taxi nosed its way through the downtown traffic, Fay looked out of the window to see Tony and Peggy Reed entering a night club.

How could Tony do this to her? He had bid her good-bye so tenderly. Was it only a pose? Had he been seeing Peggy all the time Fay was away? Humiliation and anger burned in her cheeks as she paid the driver and went to her room.

Without unpacking her bags she waited. Thirty minutes. Tony had not come. Suddenly Fay made her decision. Picking up the telephone she called the number Lynn Davis had given her.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If July 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m until midnight.

One of the common failings on this date will be the average person's proneness either to ask too many or too few questions. Only through seeking information will a sufficient amount of knowledge be gained to enable you to do things in an efficient and satisfactory manner. Many memories of the past may help brighten the lives of elderly people on this July 9, especially those who are celebrating it as their birthday. Worry will be responsible for bluntness on this date, so do not take offence too readily if you find yourself being subjected to it. It will be wise not to "turn thumbs down" too quickly on suggestions you might receive, for some of them may be worthy of your careful consideration. Married and engaged couples, and those aspiring to win someone's heart and hand, might have reason to realize on this date that the "truth is generally the best vindication against slander," especially slander that originates from malicious gossip.

If a woman and July 9 is your birthday, you should consider the source and cause of flattery before you let it turn your head. Be careful not to create the impression that you are cold and undemonstrative. Cultivate a geniality of manner, especially when you first meet strangers. Permit no one to suppress your individuality, and never be afraid to assert your independence should you find yourself being subjected to an unreasonable amount of tyrannical temperamentality. As a business manager, broker, demonstrator, lecturer, secretary, office executive, writer, singer, actress, instructress, social welfare worker, trained nurse, or in some artistic line of endeavor, you should have no difficulty in having your work recognized and remunerated in a manner that will be extremely gratifying. The home is apparently your right sphere of activity, and through marriage you probably will establish a very happy one.

The child born on July 9 frequently develops amusing mannerisms that do not require correction. An attractive individuality often proves an invaluable asset, and a great help in the furtherance of this youngster's future career.

If a man and July 9 is your natal day, you can be your own best friend or worse enemy, according to the way you develop your many fine qualities and suppress your recognized faults. As an architect, lawyer, doctor, theologian, journalist, author, educator, theatrical man, soldier, sailor, aviator, engineer, chemist, inventor, artist, musician or business executive, you should be able to demnstrate that you have both ability and money-making proclivities.

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAHUNTY

GETS TITLE CHANCE

Mexican farm worker stepped out of an audience at the amateur fights at El Centro, Cal., and accepted a challenge to box as a substitute. The lad, scrawny Manuel Ortiz, knocked his opponent down seventeen times and the next day decided to take his first lesson in boxing. Next month this same scrawny little Mexican boy, who holds the California State bantam crown, will step into the ring against Lou Salica in Hollywood for the world's championship.

Ortiz, needless to say, has come a long way since 1936, and he learned his lessons well. In 1937 he won the national golden gloves flyweight title at Boston, and soon after began fighting professionals. The road has not been an easy one for Manuel to travel, however. He has had his troubles. This same Salica three years ago gave him a bad night, whipping him in ten rounds. But this time Manuel is going gunning for that fight crown. Ortiz has wisely invested his ring earnings to date. He has a little farm, a small trucking business in the Imperial Valley, a pool hall and a semi-pro baseball team, on which he is the regular second baseman.

By the way, Ortiz is the same lad who gave Vancouver's Kenny Lindsay a boxing lesson just before the Mainlander fought Salica. Manuel made Kenny look like a novice as he punched him all around the ring and then landed the sleep producer in the sixth round.

FROM HERE AND THERE

When a soldier from Boston drew a furlough in San Francisco, he wrote home the following: "Visited Joe DiMaggio's restaurant. The food was swell but the prices were as high as his batting used to be." Joe admits it would be hard to eat there regularly on a private's pay . . . Promoter Jimmy Johnston is upset because fighter Bob Pastor would rather play golf than fight. After trying both, who can blame Bob for seeking birdies the easier way? . . . All the big-time hockey players enlisting these days are heading for Cornwall and Ottawa to get into the Royal Canadian Air Force. The Flyers won the Allan Cup last season and the famous "Kraut line" producing the scoring punch, so we wonder what kind of a squad will be flying their colors during the next ice campaign. There's one thing certain, and that's either Cornwall or Ottawa will be champions of Canada when the season ends. As a matter of fact, the teams will be so strong that they could challenge for the Stanley Cup and probably win the historic "mug" . . . Lloyd Cann, veteran hurler for the Army, will trot out to the mound tomorrow night when the troops hope to continue their climb towards Pennantville at the expense of the shipyarders from the V.M.D. Manager Warburton and Coach Tommy Green, of the soldier nine, have their fingers crossed, but feel confident that their "victory march" will carry on . . . Wonder where Tom Heeney, who, at one time was a challenger for the heavyweight boxing crown, is these days? Tom passed through this city many years ago on his way to the Eastern States to meet Gene Tunney for the title. The Australian was given a neat boxing lesson before it was all over . . . Seattle Rainiers open their series against the cellar team, Portland, and they drop the first game with Barrett on the hillock. If Kewpie cannot win against the Ducks, I wonder what the rest of the pitching corps, outside of Turpin and Budnick, are expected to do. It looks like a sad state of affairs for the Skiff clan.

ODDS AND ENDS

This evening at the Athletic Park another undefeated softball nine will attempt to lower the colors of the Navy squad when the Esquimalt Military Hospital marches onto the field to tackle the bluejackets. From all reports the hospital boys have a strong club and to date have gone through the inter-service schedule without the slightest sign of a setback . . . Jokers lacrosse team is running into more tough luck as the season progresses. It appears now that Goalie Bill Andrews, one of the best net-minders in the city, will be out of the line-up for some time, maybe for the rest of the campaign, due to injuries from Tuesday's game at the Sports Centre. Bill was forced out of the battle, and from then on the Oaks fired home goals almost at will . . . There's only three teams left in the Second Division baseball race, the Eagles being forced to drop out due to the lack of players. That means that the league-leading Navy aggregation, V.M.D. and the Army are left in the running for the pennant. At the present time the sailors are so far in front that it would take a field of Whirlaways to catch them . . . Veteran shotmakers showed the way in the card and pencil test in the men's championship of the Colwood Golf Club. Alan Macey, hefty southpaw, who can't turn on the heat when least expected, paced the field in the qualifying round with a 78, while Frank Thomas, who sneaked through to the city crown a couple years ago, was in the runner-up position when the dust cleared for the day . . . George and Ollie went fishing the other morning at Brentwood and returned home with a six-pounder. George said it was a good trip but expects better results next time out. They took along a case of "lemonade" to quench their thirst as they tried hard to conquer King Salmon . . . Talking about fishing, Radio Announcer Lee Halberg hasn't checked into the office with that "minnow" he promised the sports department.

Captures Midweek Cricket Match From Department-als at Beacon Hill

In a low scoring match, Royal Air Force cricketers defeated Spencers in the mid-week fixture played yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park by 5 runs and two wickets. The final score was 67-62 and the last two batsmen for the Flyers did not go to the wicket.

Spencers batted first and were all out for 62. Griffin was the top scorer with 14 runs, while Lindsay and Boulter each took four wickets for only 25 runs. R.A.F. then went to bat and started off poorly, three wickets being down for only 3 runs. Webb, however, batted well for his 19 and Boulter added 11 more. George Gardiner was right on with his bowling and captured five wickets for 14 runs. He only bowled twelve overs in performing the trick. Another highlight was Jimmy Oakman's spectacular catch of Naylor's hard drive.

INCREASES AT RACING PARKS

Twilight Programmes Helped to Boost Crowds At Winnipeg Meetings

WINNIPEG, July 8 (CP).—Twilight racing, inaugurated on Winnipeg and St. Boniface tracks this year, is held responsible for major increases in both attendance and betting at Whittier and Polo Park tracks during the twenty-eight-day racing meetings which closed at Polo Park Saturday.

Official figures, released today by Glen L. Cousley, Provincial Commissioner of Taxation, showed paid attendance of 27,444 persons at Whittier, compared with 24,512 in 1941, while paid attendance figures at Polo Park jumped to 39,146 from 32,212 last year.

The Provincial Treasury will collect about $100,000 in taxes on admissions and in commissions on betting, which totaled $2,309,296 at both tracks. Of the total, $947,384 was wagered at Whittier Park, while $1,451,913 went through Polo Park pari-mutuel machines.

This was a $305,936 increase over the $2,093,366 wagered on both tracks in 1941.

Best day's betting was at Polo Park July 1, the day of the Canadian Derby, when 6,513 fans laid bets amounting to $185,872.

JOHNNY LONGDEN ON THE WINNER

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP).—Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Optimism defeated five other two-year-old fillies easily today in the twenty-eighth Demoiselle Stakes at Empire City.

Johnny Longden, of Cardston, Alta., deprived of a mount when the favorite, La Reigh, was scratched, rode Optimism instead and guided the Phipps color bearer to the wire a length and a half in front of the Christiana Stable's Bras. Marshall Field's Demolition was third, a length farther away.

Optimism picked up a purse of $5,100 and paid $11.40 in the mutuels, covering the five and three-quarter furlongs in 1:09 2-5 with an impost of 111 pounds. It was her first Stakes victory.

St. Louis Cards Sell Lon Warneke To Chicago Squad

Redbirds Dispose of Famous Pitcher to Cubs for Waiver Price of $7,500 in Deal Which Puzzles Fans—Broke Into Majors With Chicago Back in 1930 as Youngster

ST. LOUIS, July 8 (AP)—In the midst of a desperate drive to overtake Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Cardinals sold lean Lon Warneke to the Chicago Cubs for the waiver price of $7,500 in a deal that puzzled baseball fans.

The thirty-three-year-old veteran pitcher, last member of the famed Mudcats' Band of Cardinal Cut-Ups, has not been fully effective this season. Later rounding into form, he has won six games and lost four, scarcely the record of a has-been.

Last year, Warneke won seventeen games, including a no-hit triumph over Cincinnati, and lost only nine. His all-time major league total is 183 victories and 108 defeats.

He was probably the highest salaried man on the St. Louis roster with a contract calling for about 15,000, and one critic was unkind enough to say the money might have influenced the decision to let go.

However, officials of the team were positive in saying the deal was based solely on other considerations. They said Warneke was slipping and his home run ball was coming up with too frequent regularity.

"With a weak-hitting team, that home run ball is a dangerous thing," one official said. "Our other pitchers have been stingy with runs. We believe we have excellent starting replacements in John Beazley and Murry Dickson."

Warneke originally was the property of the Cardinal organization, but he was released and broke into the major leagues with the Cubs in 1930. He had a brilliant year in 1932, winning twenty-two and losing only six, and has never been a losing pitcher since.

After the 1936 season, he was traded to the Cardinals.

BASEBALL GAME AIDS SERVICES

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 8 (CP).—The South, pushing across three runs in the first inning and stemming every threat thereafter, defeated the North, 6-1, here tonight in the first International League all-star baseball game.

The southern stars, representing the southern cities in the circuit, entered the game slight favorites. They displayed their power quickly, blasting out four hits in the first inning off Toronto's Nick Strincevich, who opened for the North.

They scored a fourth run in the third inning and two more in the fifth but were held scoreless from then on.

The North scored its tally in the fourth inning.

A crowd of 6,352 watched the contest, proceeds of which go to purchase athletic equipment for the armed forces of Canada and the United States.

CLEVELAND, July 8 (AP).—Success was stamped on baseball's all-star service spectacle today as the major league representatives and army and navy players scattered, but there was a question in everyone's mind whether another such game ever would be attempted.

Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians and host to 62,094 fans last night at the Municipal Stadium, said the Army Emergency Relief Fund and the Navy Relief Society would be able to divide approximately $70,000 from the game.

"It was great," he enthused to Lieut. Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, pilot of the service stars and to others today. "It was a tremendous task to put over, and we'd gladly try it again next year if we thought we could raise $70,000 for the army and navy."

MUCH RED TAPE

But there was no secret that the "red tape" encountered from officials, the difficulty of selling the show to the fans and the fact that the game itself was no test—the American League All-Stars won, 5-0—made it doubtful that the venture would be undertaken on the same pattern next year.

It was apparent that the prominent baseball players who now are soldiers and sailors have been doing more than playing baseball since entering the armed services. Most of them have been glad when they could play once or twice a week.

Obviously they are not going to become better ball players during another year of training to become better warriors, and certainly they are unlikely ever to become a reasonable match for such an array of active major league stars as the American League was able to bring into the game this year.

Because of this, the affair last night may be considered historic as the only one of its kind.

Wins Qualifying Round in Men's Championship Golf At Colwood Club

Southpaw Alan Macey paced the field in the qualifying round for the men's championship of the Colwood Golf Club with an eighteen-hole card of 78. He was the only one of the starting field to break eighty. Frank Thomas, veteran campaigner and city champion just a couple of years ago, was in the runner-up slot at the end of the day with an 81, and D. A. MacDonald was next on the list with an 83. Scores of 93 or better made the championship. Match play will start on Sunday next and the defeated eight in the championship will form the first flight.

Tomorrow's Game

6.30—V.M.D. vs. Army, Royal Athletic Park.

Uncorking a barrage of base hits from the offering of two Royal Canadian Air Force hurlers, Pitzer & Nex ball-tossers last night handed the flyers from Patricia Bay their worst setback of the season, a 14-3 shellacking in a Senior Baseball League fixture at Royal Athletic Park.

The gashouse gang finally discovered the power in their bats and hammered out a total of sixteen safeties, four of them for extra bases, in their best exhibition of hitting so far this season.

Noel Morgan, shifty first sacker, led the willow parade by poking out five base knocks, four singles and a double, in six trips to the plate, while most of the other members of the Pitzer & Nex nine fattened their batting averages.

Bert Appleby, husky southpaw flinger, paraded to the mound against the rampaging gasmen and stayed for four complete innings. During his stay on the hillock Appleby gave up eight base hits and the gashouse gang made them good for an equal number of tallies.

Percy Switch, occupying the managerial berth during the absence of Sergeant Frank Julian, regular pilot, on furlough, took over for the flyers in the fifth inning, and halted, momentarily, the parade of the gasmen.

FIVE MORE RUNS

But along came the sixth, and with it more grief for the lads from Patricia Bay. Pitzer & Nex started to hit the ball again and poked out five safeties and added five more runs to their total. A little loose fielding aided and abetted the cause of the gasmen.

In the eighth frame the winners completed their scoring with a single run and brought their total for the evening to fourteen.

Trailing by fourteen runs, the flyers from Patricia Bay still showed fight, and when McDonald, their second sacker, lifted the ball out of the park with a clubmate on the sacks he was accorded quite an ovation. It was McDonald's second homer of the season.

Again in the last half of the final frame the R.C.A.F. lads, still in there punching, scored a run.

Tommy Musgrave, doing the hurling for the winners, held the opposition hitless for five and two-third frames. The first R.C.A.F. base knock came in the last of the sixth, a double from the bat of Jimmy Lowe, centrefielder. In the next three sessions the flyers poked out six hits, for a total of seven during the contest and scored three runs.

Musgrave whiffed eight, while Switch, relief hurler, fanned six. Appleby was credited with one strikeout.

ARMY MEETS V.M.D.

Tomorrow's attraction at the Caledonia Avenue ball lot will bring together the fast-climbing Army nine and the league-leading V.M.D. ball-tossers.

Coach Tommy Green's soldier baseballers are riding on the crest of a five-game winning streak and hope to make it six at the expense of the smart depot ball club.

Lloyd Cann, speedball flinger, will probably go to the slab against the V.M.D., and will have "Hap" Milliken, young Army catcher, as his battery mate.

Manager Pat Steele has not announced his starting hurler, but it is just about time for Chief Jimmie Rattlesnake, Indian pitcher from Edmonton, to again take over the mound duties.

Game time is 6:30 o'clock.

BOWLERS AID WAR CHARITY

Lawn Devotees Turn Out in Large Numbers at Beacon Hill Greens

By W. R. YOUNGE.

There was a splendid gathering of lawn bowlers present last evening at the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, when there was staged contests between rinks composed of women and men, representing every lawn bowling club in Victoria and its environs, and when the contests were at their height the picture of the fine collection of women and men was one long to be remembered. Formalities were conspicuous by their absence, and the sight presented during the course of the contests was proof positive of the immense success of the undertaking.

On all hands, during the evening, congratulations were extended to those splendid women who were primarily responsible for organizing the affair. Every lawn bowling club in Victoria and district was represented on the committee responsible for the function, and nothing was left undone which would tend toward making such an affair a huge success.

The committee of women responsible for the evening's programme were recipients of congratulations from all quarters on the amount of money raised for the War Babies' Fund.

BERARDINO IS BACK

ST. LOUIS, July 8 (AP)—Infielder Johnny Berardino was reinstated today as an active player with St. Louis Browns and left to join the club in New York. Berardino recently was honorably discharged by the Army Air Corps after failing to qualify as a pilot.

"BUD" WARD GOLF LEADER

Fires Four Under Par 68 to Win Medal Honors in Western Meet

SPOKANE, Wash., July 8 (AP)—Corporal Marvin "Bud" Ward, in the army now but still the "Mr. Big" of amateur golf, fired his latest challenge to the field today by winning medal honors in the Western amateur championship, of which he is the two-time and defending titleholder.

When the chips were down and real action was necessary today he whipped in with a 68, four under par, to post a thirty-six-hole total of 141. It gave him medal laurels by two strokes in the tournament he has dominated the last two years.

Corporal Ward, stationed with the air force at nearby Fort Wright, was behind the pace setters when he teed off for the second round. He had carded a 73 on opening day.

Marsh Hammond, a local crackshot, ran second to Ward in the qualifying race. He had rounds of 72-71—143 to show some of the country's best name golfers how it is done.

Two topnotchers were bracketed at 145—Bruce McCormick, of Los Angeles, and Wilford Wehrle, of Racine, Wis. The former is an ex-national public links champion and Wehrle has held the Western amateur title and last year won the Mexican championship from a field that included Ward.

DIXON QUALIFIES

Among the other big timers who qualified for tomorrow's match-play rounds were Corp. Pat Abbott, of Los Angeles, and Bill Welch, of Houston, Tex., past and present national public links champions respectively. Each had 76-73—149.

The lone Canadian entry, Dave Dixon, of Vancouver, qualified by adding a 74 to his 77 of yesterday for a 151.

Harry Givan, of Seattle, leader at the halfway mark with a 69, ran into a flock of trouble in his second round and soared to an 80. He qualified nevertheless.

Scores of 157 tied for the last two of the sixty-four qualifying places.

Otto Rosand, Spokane, and Jack McIntyre, Tacoma, won the spots in the play-off, and Guy Barnes, Spokane, was eliminated.

I hold the key TO THE WORLD'S FINEST GINS

My contract says:

"ONLY GENUINE HERBS and BERRIES...NO SYNTHETICS"

There are no artificial ingredients in the London Dry Gins and other gins produced from my centuries-old English formula—only the natural roots, berries and herbs prescribed by that recipe, which I am under contract to carry out to the letter.

This formula, which I used in London, England, to produce world-famous brands of gin, now includes the snow-pure, non-alkaline mountain water so abundantly available here in Vancouver. Thus, the brands of gin carrying the "UDL" label are even superior to those I produced in England.

FILMING HALTED BY TOO MUCH FOG

"Adventures of Martin Eden" Opens Today at Plaza and Oak Bay Theatres

They wanted fog for dramatic sea scenes in "Adventures of Martin Eden"—and then the entire company became lost in it.

For fog scenes of the forceful film, beginning today at the Plaza and Oak Bay Theatres, during all-night shooting at Columbia Ranch, Director Sidney Salkow had installed two powerful artificial fog machines. But, as the night wore on, the wind arose and blew the synthetic fog away before Glenn Ford, Stuart Erwin and others in the cast, which includes Claire Trevor and Evelyn Keyes, could complete their scenes.

Then a real fog drifted in from the west and Director Salkow called the company to action again . . .

But, this time, the real fog became so dense the camera could not find the actors. Thus be-fogged, Director Salkow finally told his cast and crew to go home and go to bed.

B. P. Schulberg and Samuel Bonston produced the film, which is based upon Jack London's mighty novel.

LUPE VELEZ IN NEW RIO COMEDY

Hilarious Laugh-Riot, "Mexican Spitfire Out West," Also Features Leon Errol and Donald Woods

Big business plays the role of bogeyman in the marital affairs of Carmelita, the Mexican spitfire, when her husband forgets their first wedding anniversary for a million-dollar deal.

Hubby's oversight starts the laugh complications on their merry, tangled way in "Mexican Spitfire Out West," starring Lupe Velez and Leon Errol in the third of the series concerned with the escapades of Carmelita, her husband, and Uncle Matt, and which starts today at the Rio Theatre.

Uncle Matt is one of four characters portrayed by Leon Errol in the picture. He also plays the eccentric and dash-it-all Lord Epping, British whisky baron, and upon various occasions the plot requires Errol to play Uncle Matt giving an impersonation of Lord Epping, and also Lord Epping's cockney valet, Higgins.

The screen play is all in the spirit of fun, with Donald Woods as the husband, Elisabeth Risdon, Cecil Kellaway, Linda Hayes and others contributing comical consternation.

HITCHCOCK FILM BOOKED AT YORK

"Suspicion," Starring Joan Fontaine And Cary Grant, Is Filmland's Foremost Director's Finest

His mastery in building up suspense on the screen has made Alfred Hitchcock, of "Rebecca" and "Foreign Correspondent" fame, one of filmland's foremost directors.

His latest effort is "Suspicion," RKO Radio's new starring vehicle for Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine, which opens today on the York screen. Dealing with the strange romance of a charming ne'er-do-well and a trusting but highly imaginative woman who comes to suspect her husband of being a murderer, the picture is said to be one of the most breathless offerings in many months.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nigel Bruce and Dame May Whitty are featured in the unusual film.

ALL-STAR CAST IS FEATURED AT CADET

Jack Oakie, the All-American chowderhead; George Murphy, the guy who rescues romance from the rumpus; Walter Brennan, a grandpa who romances the field; Linda Darnell, the loveliest love interest that ever gave a heart a lift—she sings, too—and Milton Berle, a whinnying Seabiscuit, are the fun-mad people of Mark Hellinger's "Rise and Shine," the new musical comedy which dances into the Cadet Theatre today.

CAPITOL STAGE SHOW TO FINISH TONIGHT

Amateurs today but heading for stardom tomorrow can well be said of the young and clever artists assembled in Major Bowes' 1942 All-Star Revue which will be the stage attraction today at the Capitol Theatre and finishing tonight.

What these youngsters have accomplished and what their chances are of further accomplishments can be gauged by Victoria audiences when they see these dancers, singers and instrumentalists do their stuff on the Capitol stage.

This revue presentation contains ten big acts, everyone a headliner and chosen in keen competition from hundreds who appeared throughout the season on the Major Bowes' popular radio broadcasts. On the screen is "Grand Central Murder."

CAPITOL THEATRE Van Heflin, Patricia Dane and Virginia Grey are the principals in M-G-M's new drama of mystery and murder, "Grand Central Murder," currently on view at the Capitol Theatre.

Scrap Rubber Is Used in Making Baseball Centres

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—While denying that baseballs used by the two major leagues this season had lost any of their resiliency, the Spalding Company admitted in a statement released here today that it had been necessary to use scrap rubber in the cores since last January instead of the pure crude rubber formerly employed.

Players of both leagues have been protesting vehemently ever since the campaign began that the official ball was much less lively than in other years. The manufacturers' statement was in reply to their complaints.

"The core still features the cushion centre of cork and rubber," said Spalding. "The only difference here is that crude rubber is no longer used in the centre, having been replaced by high-grade reclaimed rubber. Driving machine tests conclusively show that no distance has been lost by this change."

Sweden's tobacco land has been increased 21 per cent over that of 1941.

SERVICES WILL MEET TIREMEN

Douglas Tire Stickhandlers Need Victory to Evacuate Cellar Berth

Riding along in second berth in the Senior League standings, four points behind the pace-setting James Bay stickmen, Manager Norm Barton's United Services boxla squad will cross sticks with Douglas Tire in tonight's feature attraction at the Victoria Sports Centre. Game time is 8:30 o'clock.

The sailor and soldier gutted stick artists are moving along at a fast clip at this stage of the league schedule, and the majority of the fans will expect them to humble the Tiremen and move a little closer to the league leaders.

Gus Munro, boss of the Douglas Tire outfit, will have all of his regulars on hand this evening and hopes to evacuate the cellar berth at the expense of the Servicez. Tiremen are one point back of the Jokers and a win tonight will move them into fourth berth.

James Bay lacrosse clubs will appear in the two preliminary fixtures. Ted Menzies' midget Bay stickmen will oppose the undefeated Senators in the curtain raiser at 6 o'clock, and one hour later Arnold Ferguson's James Bay juvenile "A" squad will stack up against the Young Jokers.

Lonesome Soldier Would Appreciate Mail From Canada

Mrs. E. C. Eyles, who until recently lived in Toronto but is now a resident of Victoria, sent some cigarettes overseas through a women's organization before leaving the Eastern city. The members of the organization enclosed their names and addresses so that the recipient of the cigarettes could reply and acknowledge the "smokes."

This week Mrs. Eyles, whose address is c/o Mrs. Hoke, Cadboro Bay P.O., received a letter from the soldier, who got the package with her name and address enclosed. She thinks it would be a good thing to make this letter public, so that some young people might become interested and correspond with a lonely wearer of the Canadian Army uniform somewhere in the British Isles. Here is what the letter contained:

"Just a line to let you know that I was pleased to get the cigarettes you sent me, and if you decide to send a few more I would appreciate it very much.

"I happen to be one of the few whose parents are dead, and have no brothers or sisters, in fact I have never received a letter from Canada, and I would like to know what is going on in Canada. I have been in England since October, 1941, and I will have been in the army one year on June 10.

"I like England very much. I also enjoy it here; but if you care to write and let me know how things are going in Canada, I certainly would appreciate it very much."

UNION WELDERS RETURN TO WORK

Failure of Government to Provide Conciliation Board Said to Be Cause of Strike

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP)—About 120 members of the Amalgamated Welders' Union in two Vancouver shipyards returned to their jobs after lunch today after a brief sitdown strike which appeared to be another step in a jurisdictional dispute between that union and the Boilermakers' Union.

Yards affected were the North Shore plant of Burrard Drydock Company, Limited, and the West Coast Shipyards Limited. The sitdown involved about twenty men at the former yard and 100 at the latter.

Most welders in Vancouver shipyards are members of the Boilermakers' Union. The Amalgamated Welders recently failed in an effort to organize Burrard Drydock Company's South Shore yard.

R. Adair, business agent of the Amalgamated Electrical Workers' Union, said that the sitdown was a protest against the Government's failure to set up a board of conciliation in the South Burrard yard when it was applied for two months ago. A telegram demanding reinstatement of welders who were refused work at the North Shore yard unless they had boilermakers' cards was sent to Labor Minister Mitchell.

RKO RADIO S. AR

How this Popular Screen Star takes care of her Priceless Complexion

THERE'S glamor in a clear, fresh skin. Screen stars must cherish theirs wisely. Charming Maureen O'Hara uses Lux Toilet Soap for daily facial cleansing. "Pat the lather in with upward strokes and little pats," she says. "Rinse with warm water, then a dash of cold. Pat the face lightly to dry." Use Lux Toilet Soap regularly as the screen stars do. Whipped Cream Lather carries off stale cosmetics, dust and dirt . . . leaves your face smooth to touch, fresh looking.

Use Lux Toilet Soap for a daily beauty bath, too. It makes you sure of perfect daintiness, leaves a delicate sweet fragrance on your skin . . . a subtle sweetness that clings.

Stocks Advance To Some Extent On Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP).—The stock market today achieved its broadest advance since early January and easily outstripped its best performance since the start of the Summer bull swing in late May.

Showing real momentum in the late proceedings after the steels began a vigorous climb, the rise was good for final gains ranging from fractions to around 3 points. The buoyant close was in sharp contrast with the droopy tone of the first hour. Dealings expanded on the upturn, totaling for the five hours 576,860 shares, largest since March 6 and compared with yesterday's 3,332,440.

A rise of 8 of a point in The Associated Press sixty-stock average carried the composite to the highest level since March. It was the best advance since January 2 with the day's closing figure 36.9.

Bethlehem Steel carried a three-point gain to the close and U.S. Steel finished 2 1-4 higher. Other notably strong issues were General Motors (at a new 1942 high), Chrysler, Youngstown, Douglas, American Smelting, Anaconda, American Can, Dow Chemical, Du-pont, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Santa Fe.

HOSPITAL NINE TO PLAY NAVY

Undefeated Inter-Service League Softballers Meet Sailors This Evening

Undefeated leaders of the Inter-service Softball League, Esquimalt Military Hospital "big apple" tossers will step outside their league competition this evening to battle the Royal Canadian Navy in an exhibition game at Royal Athletic Park.

The soldiers, according to reports emanating from the hospital, have a strong, well-balanced nine and figure to give the Esquimalt bluejackets quite a busy evening. Cecil Cockrill, manager of the sailors, will have his strongest nine in uniform, and would like nothing better than a victory over the Army Squad. Game time is 6:45 o'clock.

New Method Laundry, Unitys and Palm Dairies registered victories in Lower Island Softball Association fixtures played last night. Laundry girls defeated Sidney K. of P., 11-4, and Unitys turned back Hudson's Bay 24-12, in another women's league game.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

WAR STRATEGY UNDER REVIEW

Member of British Staff Mission Outlines Measures To Defeat Axis

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 8 (AP).—An over-all strategy of defeating Japan by forcing its main fleet into action and conquering Germany through an eventual invasion of continental Europe was outlined as a promising possibility today by Brig. G. K. Bourne, of the British Joint Staff Mission in Washington.

The highly placed staff officer outlined the considerations confronting the United Nations war planners in an address prepared for the University of Virginia's Institute of Public Affairs but carefully refrained, for military reasons, from defining any specific courses of future action which may have been adopted thus far.

The Japanese fleet, he observed, can always avoid the ultimate battle until Allied bombers are based within operating distances of it.

SECOND FRONT

He said a "permanent invasion" of the European continent had never been attempted and noted that even at the height of his power, after the fall of France, Hitler refrained from the "uncalculated risks" involved in an invasion of the British Isles.

It might develop, he said, that the Allied methods of attack would have to conform to the principles of Hitler himself.

"In other words," he added, "we may be right in not plunging ahead into an uncalculated risk but rather beat Hitler at his own game in the preliminary phase: by softening process, by continued blockade, by increasingly intense British and American bombing, by the threat of invasion and by raids on the model of Cherbourg, and more recently St. Nazaire.

"This process, together with the rising temper of the occupied countries, will enable us to achieve what has never been done, or even attempted, before."

IN THE PACIFIC

Turning to the Pacific, he said Japan had the advantage of fighting on interior lines.

But Japan is vulnerable, nevertheless, he said, and in the last analysis depends upon her fleet for protection, as does England. The question then was one of forcing the main Japanese fleet into action, and not one of surface actions between battle squadrons.

"The increasing effectiveness of air bombing attack and particularly of its long-range power is the most promising factor for a reasonably quick decision in the Pacific war," he said.

GETTING RID OF "CANNED" MUSIC

American Federation of Musicians Will Make No More Transcriptions and Records

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP). — The 130,000 members of the American Federation of Musicians (A.F. of L.) will make no more radio transcriptions and juke box records after August 1, it was announced by union officials today.

The order to stop recordings, signed by President James C. Petrillo, went out to the members on June 25 in an effort to end competition of "canned music," the federation's headquarters said.

A spokesman said that it would mean juke box operators could get no more records after the present supply was worn out.

WALLACES WIN GAME

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP)—Wallaces piled up a mid-game lead that Burrards could not overcome and handed the Inter-City Box Lacrosse League leaders an 8-6 defeat in a scheduled game here tonight.

Wallaces enjoyed a 3-1 advantage at halftime and by the end of the third quarter were leading 7-2. A four-goal drive by Burrards in the final quarter fell just short of tieing the count.

Reg Phillips led Wallaces scorers with two goals and Johnny Dale was high man for Burrards also with two.

5 IN MEMORIAM

"OUR REFUGE"
(Dedicated to our son, Francis Holdstock Hilliar, who passed away at Weston Lake on July 9, 1941.)
If Christ be risen living, at our side
Are not our loved ones with Him?
Those who died to things of earth,
Risen and glorified!
Not darkly do they see but face to face;
No human faults to hamper, naught to mar their joy;
Forever with the Lord they are
Enfolded in His grace.
If then to live is Christ, to die is gain;
And God doth hold our loved ones ever dear.
Upheld by Everlasting Arms they cannot fall—or fear.
We who remain believing in God's grace
Thank Him their victory's won, for they behold His face.
—Inserted by Mother, Dad and Brother Wilfred, Beaver Point, B.C.

Tomorrow we'll be sober.

We're willing to take the word of those who know about these things when they say that "laws prohibiting the use of spirituous liquors have usually attended a condition of war."

We know it was so during the Great War; something like it seems to impend in the present shambles; and there is no question about the fact that during the Civil War, on September 1, 1862, to be exact, a law was passed abolishing the imbibition of grog, hitherto served as a regular ration, in the United States navy.

The boys didn't like it, the law, that is; in every wardroom, in every fo'castle, they made known their displeasure. But aboard the U.S.S. Portsmouth, on the evening of August 31—the night before the edict was to take effect—they did more.

Anticipating a future drought, they averaged up—and sang; and what they sang especially was "Farewell to Grog," now a navy classic, but composed then and there by Caspar Schenk, U.S.N., as a ballad to be sung to the tune of "Come, Landlord, Fill the Flowing Bowl," a title with which they played charades.

Come, messmates, pass the bottle 'round,
Our time is short, remember,
For our grog must stop, and our spirits drop,
On the first day of September.

Farewell old rye, 'tis a sad, sad word,
But alas! it must be spoken,
The ruby cup must be given up,
And the demijohn be broken.

Jack's happy days will soon be gone,
To return again, oh never!
For they've raised his pay five cents a day,
But stopped his grog forever.

Yet memory oft' will backward turn,
And dwell with fondness partial,
On the days when gin was not a sin,
Nor cocktails brought courts-martial.

All hands to splice the main brace, call,
But splice it now in sorrow,
For the spirit-room key will be laid away
Forever, on tomorrow.

Take the shine off your worsted suit or skirt by pressing the shiny spot over a press cloth damped in a mixture of vinegar and water, using just a warm iron.

Rinse your shaving brush in lukewarm water and hang it with the bristles down so the moisture will drain away and not spoil the bristles.

Look after your umbrella. Shake before opening to prevent jamming of ribs and leave it open after use until dry. Do not dry in the sun or near artificial heat.
